BONUS CERTIFICATE SCHEME THE WORST, TREASURY VIEW

Five Hundred Million Dollars Would Be "Frozen" in Banks Under It, It Is Declared.

SAID BANKS WOULD BE EMBARRASSED

Money Would Be Withdrawn From Business Investments for Three Years; Steps Termed Dangerous.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1922.)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Five hundred million dollars will be "frozen" in the banks of the United States if the soldier bonus bill being considered by the House of Representatives should become a law. Also it may mean a net cost to the Government in three years of about a billion dollars.

This is the view of the Treasury Department which continues unabated its opposition to the method prescribed by the House Ways and Means Committee to provide funds for a soldier bonus. The Treasury view is that if the bonus must be paid, the funds would better be obtained by direct borrowing on the part of the United States, though that form is hardly as good as a sales tax or any of the other forms of taxation suggested.

Indeed, the Treasury looks upon the scheme to compel the banks of the United States to loan money on the so-called service certificates as the worst possible way that could have been devised to handle the situation.

Position of Treasury.
The position of the Treasury will unquestionably be made known to the House Ways and Means Committee, though, to be sure, there is reason to believe Secretary Mellon has communicated his views to the President and that Mr. Harding as a consequence issued his statement of Tuesday, reiterating his proposal that the whole bonus issue be postponed or a sales tax imposed.

Officials at the Treasury explain their opposition to the House plan this way: They say that the so-called loan certificates will embarrass the banks of the country, for it compels them to lend money to the soldiers and yet the certificates are not transferable or negotiable. The moment the banks pay the soldiers the sums they borrow, the certificates must be in the hands of the Treasury. Upwards of $500,000,000 of capital which might otherwise go into business investments or be used to finance the country's normal needs would be withdrawn. And, if at the end of three years the soldiers have borrowed the money should default, the Government must not only make good the bank's losses, but it must pay the soldiers the remaining half of the money they were privileged to borrow under the soldier certificates.

As viewed at the executive end of the plan, the plan means a transfer of the drain for the moment from the Treasury to the banks of the country. As between the two, it is contended that the Treasury is better able to stand such borrowings than are the banks. In the end the Treasury considers the Government will have to reimburse the banks so it means the same thing though for three years the capital of American banks would be tied up or "frozen."

Says Scheme Is Unsound.
Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger, who by law is entrusted with the supervision of national banks and who hails from Marion, O., where for years he has been President Harding's intimate friend, insists that the scheme is so unsound that he would not advise banks to lend money on the certificates which Congress is talking about.

Unless some better way is devised to pay the soldier bonus it is deemed. For the consensus of opinion in executive quarters is that the latest plan is better with more danger to the country's finances than any yet proposed and that the soldiers themselves will insist upon a sales tax when they find out that half of the bonus, the sales tax affords the soundest scheme of financing the bonus. The farm bloc and other elements in Congress, however, oppose the sales tax. For the moment it looks as if the postponement of the issue by letting it rest in the Senate is inevitable.

CRISSINGER WOULD ADVISE BANKS AGAINST TAKING SERVICE CERTIFICATES

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY CRISSINGER announced today that, in the event of the enactment of soldier bonus legislation providing for payment by adjusted service certificates, he would advise national banks to decline to accept the certificates as security for loans. Crissinger described the proposed plan of issuing adjusted service certificates for use by the soldiers, if desired, as collateral for loans to 80 per cent of their face value, as "the worst kind of frozen credit," and declared that while he would be without authority to order national banks to refuse to accept them as security, he would strongly advise against their acceptance.

The certificates would be similar to real estate loans which are not redeemable at Federal Reserve Banks, he said, and "far from the liquid security best for the banks."

CARDINALS TO PAY ROGERS HORNSBY $20,000 TO $25,000

Champion Batter to Sign Contract This Evening for Highest Salary in National League.

Rogers Hornsby, leading batter of the National League, will sign a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals this evening and depart immediately for the team's training camp at Orange, Tex.

Hornsby and Manager Branch Rickey held a long conference at the Jefferson Hotel this afternoon and at its conclusion Hornsby told Rickey to hasten arrangements so they could get together and reach the South soon enough to permit the star batter's participation in the game at Dallas Saturday with the Cleveland American League club.

No details of the contract were given out, but it is understood that the salary is between $20,000 and $25,000, with a clause increasing the salary if the team finishes first, second or third in the National League race.

Demanding $25,000.
Hornsby originally demanded $25,000 a year and a three-year contract. The club offered $13,000 and later raised its offer to $17,000. Yesterday Hornsby told a Post-Dispatch reporter that if he signed it could be taken for granted that he was receiving the demanded $25,000 or a contract in which there was a clause providing for that total if the club finished one, two, three, four or five in the National League. The contract makes Hornsby the highest paid player in the National League. It recently was stated by a high National League official that only two players in the circuit ever had received as much as $15,000—Eddie Roush, Cincinnati outfielder, and Fred Clarke, as playing manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hornsby's signing will leave Fournier, first baseman, the only unsigned regular of the Cardinal team.

ESTATE OF CHARLES L. MARTIN IS VALUED AT $501,299.62

The estate of Charles L. Martin, vice president of the Crunden-Martin Manufacturing Co., who died Feb. 5 at his home in Webster Groves, is valued at $501,299.62, in an inventory filed in the Probate Court at Clayton today.

Personal property included 993 shares of common stock in the Crunden-Martin Co., valued at $90,500, and 896 shares of preferred stock, valued at $89,600. Shares in the Washington Real Estate and Investment Co., Conzelmann-Crunden Realty Co., and the Martin Investment Co., brought the total stock holdings to a value of $450,922.50.

Bonds valued at $25,500 and chattels valued at $79,876.50 are listed. Real estate included the family residence at 30 Joy avenue, Webster Groves.

Youths Get Terms of Life in Solitude.
By the Associated Press.
PLINE, Mich., March 9.—Charles Austin, 20, and Clifford Thorne, 17, must pass the remainder of their lives in solitary confinement at state prisons for the slaying, Dec. 10, of Paul de Lisle, wealthy Flint cattle buyer. Austin was sentenced to Marquette and Thorne to Jackson prison, yesterday. Robbery was the motive for the crime.

VAN BLARCOM NOW FREE TO MANAGE HIS OWN AFFAIRS

Son of Late President of National Bank Adjudged of Sound Mind After 2-Year Fight.

39 WITNESSES ARE PLACED ON STAND

Verdict Enables Petitioner, Until Now Patient at City Sanitarium, to Control Estate.

Frederick Van Blarcom, at the age of 36, has won his fight for legal freedom and recognition of his sanity. He has gained control of his income, $1000 a month, from his mother's trust estate, and of property of his own valued at $7000. He has been released from what has been, for several months past, hardly more than a technical confinement in the City Sanitarium, and he can go where he pleases, do what he wishes, and marry if he chooses.

A Circuit Court jury yesterday decided in Van Blarcom's favor, in the legal proceeding which he began nearly two years ago and renewed last December, and in which Probate Judge Holtkamp, and later a Probate Court jury, decided against him. The case was taken to the Circuit Court on appeal, and the hearing before Judge Davis ended in the verdict yesterday afternoon.

No Appeal Anticipated.

By a verdict, the St. Louis Union Trust Co. is removed as Van Blarcom's guardian. It has contested the case thus far, but the trust company was named as his guardian because he fled from Broadway and St. Charles street on Dec. 3 last, after his automobile had struck Mrs. Maude Baker of 2033 Geyer avenue.

"Dismiss all thoughts of a parole from your mind," Circuit Judge Miller told Vassier. "This sentence means real time in the workhouse."

BOY BEGINS A LIFE SENTENCE

John Mollick, 16, Starts Work in Indiana State Prison Quarry.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., March 9.—When John Mollick, 16 years old, began work today on the "quarry squad" of the State prison here, where he is under sentence to serve the remainder of his life at hard labor, a movement was launched to obtain clemency for the youthful convict.

The boy, who was convicted of the murder of his stepmother in November, 1921, is the first lad in knee pants ever to enter the prison here.

CLOUDY, PROBABLY WITH RAIN; COLDER TOMORROW

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Cloudy, probably with rain tonight and tomorrow; colder tomorrow; the lowest temperature tonight will be above freezing.

Probably rain in south portion and rain or snow in northwest portion tonight and tomorrow; some what colder in west portion tonight and in east and south portions tomorrow.

Illinois—Rain tonight and probably tomorrow; colder tomorrow in south portion.

Rainstorm Moving From Texas.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A disturbance over Texas will move northeastward, increase in intensity and be attended by rain over practically all sections east of the Mississippi within the next 36 hours. The Weather Bureau today announced. The temperature will rise almost generally east of the Mississippi tonight, it was predicted, and in the Atlantic states Friday, while colder weather will overspread Tennessee and the East Gulf states, Friday. Storm warnings are displayed on the East Gulf coast from Bay St. Louis, Miss., to Cedar Key, Fla.

NEW BUILDING ERECTED SQUARELY ACROSS A STREET

Missouri Pacific Car Repair Shop Found on Carroll Street by Sewer Inspectors.

City sewer inspectors who went to the foot of Carroll street, 1600 south, to investigate a cave-in of the Carroll street sewer, were amazed to find that a new one-story brick building was standing entirely across the right-of-way of Carroll street, which is unimproved there, and just west of Main street.

Inquiry disclosed that the building had been erected by the Missouri Pacific Railroad, which has "racks" laid out for a car repair shop. The building is 500 feet long, from north to south and completely blocks Carroll street. It extends 46 feet west from Main street, Carroll street, which is several blocks west, is "improved" and used by property owners, and has not been used across Main street and to the levee, but was kept open to maintain access to the sewer.

Streets to the north and south of Carroll street have been vacated by the city as being of no use. The Missouri Pacific Railroad was authorized by ordinance to lay tracks on Carroll street at Main street, but not to block the thoroughfare. E. A. Hadley, chief engineer of the railroad, admitted, Director of Streets and Sewers Fisk said today, that the railroad was in error in erecting the building.

The building is valued by the railroad at $100,000, and the railroad opened negotiations for permission to retain it, after being notified by Director Fisk on March 2 to remove it. The Board of Public Service today authorized Fisk to negotiate with the railroad on this basis: The city will vacate Carroll street if the railroad will pay the city $50,000 and reconstruct and maintain the sewer at that point.

3 MONTHS FOR MAN WHO FLED AFTER HIS AUTO STRUCK WOMAN

"Dismiss All Thoughts of Parole; This Means Real Time," Judge Tells Him.

Walter Vassier, 23 years old, of 434 Hall's Ferry road, was sentenced today to three months in the workhouse because he fled from Broadway and St. Charles street on Dec. 3 last, after his automobile had struck Mrs. Maude Baker of 2033 Geyer avenue.

"Dismiss all thoughts of a parole from your mind," Circuit Judge Miller told Vassier. "This sentence means real time in the workhouse."

DEPUTY CATTLE INSPECTOR SHOT TO DEATH BY CHIEF OF BARON'S WIFE

J. D. Hawkins Surrenders to Sheriff and Tells of Killing Mark Larkin at National Stockyards.

Mark Larkin, a veterinary surgeon, employed as a Deputy State Inspector of Cattle at the National Stockyards, was shot and killed at 10:30 a. m. today by John D. Hawkins, chief inspector, who was Larkin's official superior.

The shooting occurred behind the Exchange Building of the stockyards, and Hawkins went into East St. Louis and surrendered at the Sheriff's office.

Through his lawyer, Joseph McGlynn, Hawkins gave to reporters the only account of the shooting given thus far.

Story of Shooting by Hawkins.
Hawkins said he had befriended Larkin, had re-employed him after he had lost his job as an inspector, and had aided him financially when he required a surgical operation. Lately, Hawkins said, he was warned by acquaintances that Larkin was making threats against him.

Hawkins said they met indoors this morning without having any difficulty, but that when they met outdoors Larkin began accusing him of making false statements about his (Larkin's) relatives. Hawkins denied the accusation, and he said Larkin then declared, "I'll kill you, anyway."

"I started to run away," Hawkins said, "but I ran into a telephone pole and Larkin hit me with his fist. I saw him reach into his pocket and I put my hand into my pocket, and fired my revolver without taking it out." Larkin was shot through the heart.

Carried Revolver for Protection.
Hawkins carried a revolver for protection during the strike at the Stockyards. He lives at 1817 Forty-second street, East St. Louis. Larkin, who was unmarried, lived in a rooming house at Second street and St. Clair avenue. His mother lives in Springfield, Mo.

Another veterinarian, Thomas Farris, related that Larkin threatened him with a knife, about three weeks ago, because of a disagreement. Daniel O'Connell, a member of the St. Clair County Board of Assessors, said he had heard Larkin threaten to kill Hawkins.

This was written after Kennedy's mother was said to have made slanderous statements about her and visiting Mrs. Louise Wilson, Mrs. Obenchain's confidante, in an effort to prevent marriage between Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain. Kennedy did not see her for several days and failed to keep a promise to telephone her, this prompting her to make a notation in her diary, she testified.

She told many letters she said she received from Kennedy while she was in prison.

MRS. OBENCHAIN READS FROM DIARY ON WITNESS STAND

She Testifies to Meeting Kennedy in Los Angeles, and That Father Appeared With Him.

"B. IS FALSE," SHE READS FROM NOTES

Declares She Drew Conclusion After Broker's Mother Saw Her Friend in Effort to Prevent Marriage.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 9.—The story of Madalynne Connor Obenchain of Chicago, which, she said, she had waited seven months to tell, concerning J. Belton Kennedy, a broker, with whose murder she is charged, began today when she was called to the stand as a witness in her own defense.

She smiled at the clerk as she was sworn as a witness. Her opening testimony was that she had been in the county jail for seven months, since the morning of Aug. 6 last, when she was arrested following the shooting of Kennedy at his Beverly Glen bungalow. She said she had not been permitted access to her letters or property since that time.

Mrs. Obenchain was pale and spoke in a low tone, although appearing composed and not hesitating in her answers to questions. It was necessary for her attorneys to admonish her to speak higher. Her eyes were on the jurors, most of the time. Saying that she kept a diary of her activities in 1921, she referred to it frequently to refresh her memory.

"Asked for Return of Letters."
"I arrived in Los Angeles Jan. 7, 1921," she said. "I did not meet Mr. Kennedy for some time, although I saw him once or twice on the street. On Jan. 14 I telephoned to him asking that he return my letters. He refused to return them until I consented to see him."

"I consented to see him that night and waited for some time in the street, and then saw him approach, accompanied by his father. We talked for some two hours."

Mrs. Obenchain gave out this statement last night:

"I've waited for this moment for seven months. I'm glad it's almost here. Of course, I'm a little nervous—wouldn't you be? But now I can tell my story, the story I want to tell."

"But this won't affect me much. There have been lots of things in this trial that have hurt. This won't hurt me any more."

Referring to her diary for the dates, which were every three or four days after this meeting with Kennedy, she testified she had other meetings with Kennedy. She continually asked him for the return of her letters, she testified, saying she "wanted everything ended, believing that that would make it happier for everybody."

Kennedy wanted to continue their relations, pleading with her "to bear with him further," she said.

Kennedy, she testified, told her that because of his mother's illness he could not do that which his "heart asked" him to do.

Mrs. Obenchain's first tears came when her counsel read what purported to be a letter from Kennedy to her, as it was printed in a local newspaper, and which was not produced by the District Attorney when he offered other correspondence.

The letter as read was written by Kennedy to Mrs. Obenchain just after she had departed suddenly for Chicago and without informing Kennedy of her intention. After the purported text had been read argument began on the admissibility of the letter in evidence.

"B. Is False."
"If I could die tonight, B. is false," was read by Mrs. Obenchain from her diary as of about July 17. She said "B." meant Belton, Kennedy's given name. This entry was made during her visit to Los Angeles within three weeks of the death of Kennedy.

This was written after Kennedy's mother was said to have made slanderous statements about her and visiting Mrs. Louise Wilson, Mrs. Obenchain's confidante, in an effort to prevent marriage between Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain. Kennedy did not see her for several days and failed to keep a promise to telephone her, this prompting her to make a notation in her diary, she testified.

She told many letters she said she received from Kennedy while she was in prison.

Government Leader in Commons Says Requests From Indian Government Exceed Wishes of Turks' Most Ardent Friends.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 9.—Edwin Samuel Montagu, the Secretary for India, tendered his resignation today and it was accepted.

The resignation was announced in the House of Commons by Austen Chamberlain, the Government's leader, who assigned no reason for the Secretary's action. Before making the announcement Chamberlain said he understood the telegram sent to Secretary Montagu, from the Government of India, setting forth the feeling in India regarding the necessity for revision of the treaty of Sevres, between Turkey and the allies, was made public by the Indian Government with only Montagu's sanction, no other Minister having been consulted regarding it.

Resignation Tendered Today.
Then asked later whether Montagu had resigned before or after the publication of the Indian dispatch, Chamberlain replied the resignation had been tendered today.

Chamberlain said he desired expressly to abstain from comment on the subject matter of the Indian Government's telegram. He thought the terms mentioned exceeded those demanded by the warmest friends of the Turks themselves. The Government of India, he continued, was entitled to put its views before the British Government, but the publication should be reserved for Cabinet decision.

"The responsibility of the Government," he added, "is wholly covered by the responsibility taken by the Secretary of State for India, who authorized the publication."

This publication, Chamberlain said, had led to Montagu's resignation.

Resentment in Press.

English editors take it for granted that this movement has been made in order to influence the proceedings at the conference in Paris, March 22, when Great Britain, France and Italy hope to discuss settlement in the Near East. Certain newspapers emphasize that a majority of the people in India are not Moslems, have no concern with the Sultan of Turkey and know little about him. These newspapers assert that the claims of the Turks gain prominence in India only through the exploitation of Mohandas Gandhi, who, they declare, in the trouble maker in India. Gandhi's critics in England say he should have been arrested long ago.

DETROIT TO HAVE VOTE ON OWNING RAILWAYS

City May Have Largest Municipal System in World After Election of April 17.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., March 2.—Detroit's street railway problem, storm center of every municipal election for upwards of 20 years, may be settled April 17. On that date, the voters will be asked to pass upon the question of paying the Detroit United Railway Co. $19,850,000 for the major part of its property within the city limits. If the voters endorse the action of city officials, in offering that sum for the property, the concern's lines will become a part of the municipally-owned street railway system. In that event, this city will boast of the largest unified municipally-owned street car system in the world.

Of greater significance to Detroiters, however, would be the end of a street car war that has been the chief issue in at least a dozen municipal elections.

Fight Is Finally Won.
The fight for a municipally-owned system culminated about two years ago when the voters approved a plan for a city-controlled concern, that was to be operated in opposition to the Detroit United. As a result of the election, a series of suits were filed by the D. U. R., each of which either directly or indirectly challenged the right of the city to proceed with the building of its own railway system. The city won each of the suits in every court into which they were carried. Legality of the election was affirmed by the United States Supreme Court.

Immediately following the election, the city, under leadership of Mayor James Couzens, one of the sponsors of the municipal ownership idea, made plans to construct 100 miles of street railway. Actual work was begun last spring and the building program was pushed at the rate of a mile of completed trackage a day.

With expiration of franchises on two important Detroit United lines the voters last fall authorized the city to bring abandonment of service on the part of the company and sanctioned the city's plan to replace these lines with divisions of the municipal system. Tearing up of the Detroit United tracks was made unnecessary, however, when the company and city entered into an agreement whereby the two were to use the lines jointly. This system is being employed at present pending decision of the voters on the purchase plan.

Price Finally Settled.
The purchase plan was arrived at after a series of conferences extending over a period of a month or more. The city increased its offer from $14,500,000, while the company reduced its price from $14,500,000. The company reserves a few bits of property within the city to be used in connection with its inter-urban lines.

If the city is authorized to purchase the lines the unified municipal system will comprise 474 miles of trackage.

DIFFICULTIES IN GERMAN MARKET ARE MET BY AMERICAN BUYERS

Unstability of Deliveries and Exchange Complicate Situation Which Was Anticipated as Easy.

By the Associated Press.
LEIPZIG, March 2.—Americans are finding it difficult to close commercial deals here owing to the German attitude against the setting of definite times for deliveries and the unstability of the exchange rate.

A number of German firms, particularly in the toy industry and manufacturers of tools and implements have announced that orders have been taken which keep them busy for a year. Others are declining further orders, saying they cannot assure deliveries.

Approximately 500 Americans were in attendance at the spring fair, but most of them already have left for Paris and London, as the fair was virtually "sold out" three days after its opening, owing to the restricted offerings and the unusually heavy American and European demand. Some of the American buyers in their talks were not inclined to view Germany as a "dumping" menace to the world markets, declaring that the prices of virtually all categories of her export commodities had reached the world market level.

Some of the Americans who expected to find buying at the spring fair an attractive pastime in view of the state of German exchanges, were surprised to find that German sellers were doing business on a dollar basis and maintaining prices on a higher level than the foreigners had anticipated, in addition to protecting themselves against a further slump in exchange or inability to guarantee deliveries at a specified time.

IRISH CONSTITUTION WRITE

Draft Now Will Go Before Provisional Government.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, March 2.—The Irish Free State Constitution, which has occupied the time of the Drafting Committee for the last month, has been completed, but has not yet been considered by the provisional Government, and will not have force until the provisional Government has approved it.

LONDON, March 2.—The Irish Free State bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 224 to 22.

"The Old Order Changeth, Yielding Place to New."

Below is the kernel in the nutshell of our Pre-Advanced Merchandising Policy which offers you values beyond any values the trade has ever known or shown—

"Resolved to be the lowest-priced clothing institution in the world---offering the highest-quality clothes in the world" ---

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes and Fashion Park Clothes

—the two finest tailored lines in America

But—the successful operation of this plan depends upon the helpful co-operation of the Public.

Today, every clothier in America stands at the fork in the road. The old signpost says, "FAIR PROFITS AND FEW SALES." The new signpost reads, "SMALL PROFITS AND BIG VOLUME." As merchants with a prevision into the future and with an unquenchable ambition to be the shepherds, instead of the sheep, we unhesitatingly turn our steps along the road marked "SMALL PROFITS AND BIG VOLUME." All the forces and resources of this institution shall be dedicated, henceforth, to GIVING UNEXAMPLED VALUES, even though that involves parting from some of the profits to which we are equitably entitled.

For Spring 1922 and every season thereafter, we have resolved to gain for this institution the largest clothing business under one roof in the world by giving prices under all for quality over all—STEIN-BLOCH Smart Clothes and Fashion Park Clothes. This Price Policy also applies, unconditionally, to every article we sell, from a Suit to a Shirt, from a Top Hat to a Top Coat, restricted lines only excepted.

An outstanding and astounding example of our advanced policy—

$45 Values in Stein-Bloch and Fashion Park Spring Suits at

$39

We guarantee that this saving is a genuine one calculated upon the partial surrender of our rightful merchant's profit for the sake of rolling up a towering volume of sales. And—as, with the support of an applauding public, our business still further increases our price still decreases—absolutely and automatically.

We ask the public of St. Louis to receive this and believe this as right-from-the-shoulder and straight-from-the-heart. We want you to know that the successful operation of our plan depends upon the helpful co-operation of every man.

Give Us the VOLUME—We'll Give You the VALUES!

Bring Finer Qualities at Small Expense

BRISK as the Spring breezes they defy, are these all-around service Coats—and quite as outspoken, for they rely upon no subterfuges of ornamentation to carry them into public favor. They start well by choosing firmly woven materials, and acquire perfection through the most exact of tailoring, full silk linings and careful attention to details.

In the Illustration—

A Longley tweed has just claim to the sang froid it so openly flaunts. Likewise do a soft tan and rich coral receive a well-deserved peace of praise—and these are only three of the many we display at this price.

Gray tweeds, tan chinchilla and fine coating fabrics in tan, chocolate, blue, make a distinctive fascinating lot.

(Third Floor.)

The Skirt of Homespun

Acquires a Cosmopolitan Air—$11.95

WHAT kind of a Skirt are you choosing for the counterfoil of your new sweater? Behold the possibilities we have spread before you—tweeds—and certainly homespun (have you seen the new fringed bottom ones?), piquant checks and pert prunellas. What a verve there is to the pocketed tailored ones, what a grace to the pleated ones! And when a sash with fringed ends is added—well, she who has no Skirt soon becomes the owner of one, and she who has one acquires another!

You'll certainly seek long before you find a better purchase than one of this group.

(Third Floor.)

Purchase of Manufacturer's Surplus Stock Romper and Creepers

Fine Quality of Amoskeag Gingham

To Sell at $1.00 Per Garment

SO unusual are the values offered in this sale that mothers save a gratifying sum by purchasing an entire season's supply of these gingham and percale play togs.

Some of these well-made little garments have white waists, others are piped or smocked. The Rompers are peg top style. The entire offering shows quality and finish most unusual at this price.

The new colors suitable for children's clothes are tastefully used in these garments, which are truly remarkable values.

We offer sizes from 6 months to 6 years.

(Second Floor.)

Chamois-Suede Gloves Special Values at 95c

GAUNTLETS with strap wrists, 12 and 16 button length mousquetaire styles, are found in this group of discontinued numbers. They are made of fine imported chamois-suede, and have spear and embroidered backs. All sizes and colors are available. An unusual opportunity to secure Gloves for Spring wear, at very low cost.

(Main Floor.)

CONFERENCES ON COAL WAGES ARE URGED BY DAVIS

Labor Secretary Says He Has Approval of President in Asking Miners and Operators to Get Together.

PLEA "IN INTEREST OF COMMON SENSE"

Direct Communication Entered Into With Owners and Union Officials in Central Field.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 8.—Coal miners and operators were urged today by Secretary of Labor Davis "in the interest of common sense to get together and save the country from the costly results of a strike."

The Secretary of Labor, in a formal statement, said that with the approval of President Harding he had entered into direct communication with representatives of the coal operators of the central competitive field with a view to a joint meeting of the operators and miners prior to March 31, when the present working agreement expires.

Mine Executive Ignore Defiance in Answer to Illinois Chief.
Frank Farrington, Illinois president of the United Mine Workers of America, received in St. Louis last night the answer of the international executive board to the telegram of defiance sent yesterday by Farrington and the Illinois executive board, calling the international board "presumptuous and impertinent" and declaring the intention of the Illinois officials to negotiate with the Illinois operators unless an interstate conference is arranged before March 31.

The reply ignores the defiance and acknowledges with appreciation some incidental points of discussion in the Farrington telegram which are construed as submission to the international board and intended obedience to the International Policy Committee.
The reply is as follows:
"We are pleased to know it is the purpose of the executive board of District 12 (Illinois) to comply with the decision of the international executive board, which decision was the policy outlined by the recently renewed wage convention. We are also glad to know that the executive board of District 12 is willing to have their action determined by the policy committee created by the international convention. Your acquiescence in this matter will no doubt set at rest many untrue reports that District 12 executive board proposes to make a separate district wage agreement without the consent of the International Policy Committee."

Farrington's telegram yesterday declared that the International Executive Board, in ordering the Illinois organization not to negotiate with the Illinois operators had acted outside of its authority, the question being one for the International Policy Committee to pass upon. The emphasis placed upon this point in the Farrington telegram was construed at Indianapolis as willingness to be controlled by the latter committee, notwithstanding the plain declaration that the Illinois officials will meet the Illinois operators unless an interstate conference is brought about.

After learning how the International Executive Committee had treated his telegram Farrington repeated that he would confer with the State operators unless there is an interstate conference.
Today Farrington sent the following telegram to Secretary-Treasurer Green at Indianapolis:
"Acknowledging your telegram of March 8, I advise that the members of the District Executive Board laughingly compliment the members of the International Executive Board upon their ability to read into our telegram of yesterday the statement that we have decided to comply with the decision of the International Executive Board. You and your associates have indeed shown rare sagacity. We suggest that you read our telegram again."

BRONX COCKTAIL'S INVENTOR DIES AT HOME IN NEW YORK

Put in 29 Years as Wine Steward at Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK.—Phil J. Kennedy, for 29 years wine steward at the Waldorf-Astoria, is dead.
One afternoon, when stock brok-ing and banking and real estate deals were done for the day, a group of men foregathered at the Waldorf with Phil Kennedy in the place wherein his presence was a benediction—and out of the distant hum of voices came the laughing suggestion that Phil make a cocktail that might be held by the Bronx then and in perpetuity as its Very Own.
And Phil, who had given much of his time and attention to the ground plan of such delectable beverages, indulged in a few moments of active celebration. He poured vermouth and he emptied in some Gordon gin and fooled around with a lemon and glory sat enthroned in the Waldorf bar, for the first Bronx cocktail had been born.
Jimmy Carroll remembers that.
He's up at the Waldorf now and in those times he was Phil Kennedy's assistant.
They say of Phil Kennedy that in the 29 years of his incumbency at the Waldorf and during his days at the Waldorf bar he invented many famous drinks.
1,500,000 on German Civil Payroll.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BERLIN, March 8.—Officials and employees in the German civil service number more than 1,500,000 men and women, and their pay burdens the national budget annually with nearly 44,500,000,000 paper marks, according to a memorandum submitted to the Reichstag. This number includes 1,600,000 persons under the Ministry of Traffic, including the railway service.

Alleged Bootlegger Made Accused.
By the Associated Press.
HARVEY, Ill., March 8.—H. C. Phelps, the man who is alleged to have sold "moonshine" whiskey to H. C. Lewis, who last night had kicked his father-in-law, Henry Jones, to death, and then attacked his wife, was arrested today. He was charged with being an accessory before the crime.

Record Sale of Fine Dresses

An Early March Event That Will Establish a Precedent for Extraordinary Value-Giving

Eight of New York's largest Dress manufacturers sacrificed a small fortune in disposing of these Dresses so that we could sell them at $15. For two solid weeks our buyers "shopped" New York from one end to the other and finally closed with these eight concerns, after securing concessions that few stores in America are in a position to demand. Unquestionably, this is the choicest array of Dresses shown this season at this price, and hundreds of women who appreciate the importance of a Sonnenfeld sale will be here early tomorrow.

McDONALD'S HUSKIES FINISH FIRST IN SASKATCHEWAN DERBY

Cover 125-Mile Course in 18 Hours and 59 Minutes; Second Finishes 51 Minutes Later.
By the Associated Press.
BIG RIVER, Sask., March 8.—J. McDonald's dog team, driven by Antoine Maurice, an Indian driver from the La Crosse, yesterday won the 125-mile annual 125-mile Saskatchewan dog derby, finishing here shortly after 10 a. m. He covered the course in 18 hours and 59 minutes. Celestine de Rocher of La Crosse, also an Indian, was second, coming in 51 minutes behind the winner.
The rest of the field was not in sight when Maurice and de Rocher dashed. The dogs of both the leading teams finished in good condition.

FREEDOM FOR HAYTI IS URGED

Santo Domingo Included in Statement to Senate by Church.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 8.—Establishment of complete administrative independence in both Hayti and Santo Domingo "as soon as possible" is urged in a statement which has been presented to the Senate committee investigating American occupation of the island republics, by the Federal council of the Churches of Christ in America.
The statement, in which the churches' home mission council and the committee on co-operation in Latin-America also joined, urged that steps be taken at once to insure that the relation between Hayti and this country be based on the free consent of a properly constituted government of the smaller nation; that the American Government take such administrative measures as will lead to "the development of the Haytian people and their Government."

IRRITATED THROATS QUICKLY RELIEVED

One of the most popularly used remedies for affected throat membranes is menthol. Derived from the peppermint plant, it is cooling and soothing. Its antiseptic qualities prevent further inflammation.
Dean's Mentholated Cough Drops are compounded with just the proper amount of menthol and pure cane sugar to make them doubly effective. Pleasant to taste—ideal for medicinal use—no war tax. Dean Medicine Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

A Most Remarkable Sale of 1000 Fine Spring Dresses

A brilliant value-giving achievement, involving 1000 brand-new Spring Dresses, purchased at enormous price concessions from makers who had overestimated Spring business. A sale that surpasses any similar event we have announced since our memorable Dress occasion of last November, when we shattered every record for number of Dresses sold in one day by this store.

$65, $55, $50, $45 and $35 Fine Dresses

Important!

Best of All, the Quantities of Dresses Worth From $50 to $65 Are Almost as Numerous as Those Worth From $35 to $45.

Styles for Street, Afternoon and General Wear

Also a Few Worth $75

Consisting of exclusive one-of-a-kind "sample" Dresses. But for these you must come early.

All Sizes, Dark and Pastel Colors

What woman who has ever attended a Kline Dress Sale doesn't know what it means from the standpoints of styles, qualities and values! As hundreds and hundreds of women will verify, such an event NEVER disappoints. Why? Because a Kline Sale is no overnight affair. Weeks of preparation are necessary. For this sale, which is typical, manufacturers from whom we buy regularly sold us Dresses at FAR BELOW COST. At tomorrow's sale price they represent styles and qualities we sincerely doubt can be duplicated later.

We wish you could see these marvelous Dresses, their wonderful quality materials, the magnificent styles, the distinctive trimmings and bewitching color harmonies. They are Dresses for which you would willingly pay up to double and more. They are the sort of Dresses about which it would be futile to attempt description. YOU MUST SEE THEM and let us prove that even our most enthusiastic statement does not do these Dresses justice.

Maj.-Gen. Harris to Retire April 1.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Major-General Peter C. Harris, Adjutant-General of the Army since Sept. 1, 1915, plans to leave the active service about April 1. It was learned yesterday. The General, a brother of Senator Harris of Georgia, expects to take an extended leave of absence until Sept. 1, when he will go on the retired list. Among the possible successors to Gen. Harris the name of Col. Robert C. Davis is mentioned.

By the Associated Press.
HAMBURG, March 9.—The American steamship West Munham, a relief ship bound from Norfolk, Va., for Russia, with a cargo of corn, sprang a leak in the North Sea today and her crew was taken off and landed at Heligoland. Twelve tugs stood by as her cargo was jettisoned.

15 ALDERMEN SEE OPERATIONS ON DOGS AT MEDICAL SCHOOLS

They Visit Medical Schools to Observe Whether Experiments Are Cruel.

Fifteen members of the Board of Aldermen yesterday went to the medical school of Washington University to observe operations upon dogs arranged to demonstrate that the treatment of the dogs is not cruel as members of the Humane Society are asserting in opposing the bill which would permit the medical schools to obtain dogs from the city pound at 75 cents a head.

Four intestinal operations were performed by four students under the direction of a member of the faculty. The professor said that the dogs would be permitted to live if their wounds healed. If not, they would be etherized to prevent needless suffering.

The Aldermen saw a dog showing signs of a recent operation to determine proper treatment of valvular disease of the heart in humans. As the surgeon who performed the operation explained it, the dog leaped about him kicking his hands and otherwise showing devotion.

The Aldermen then were permitted to watch an operation for floating kidney upon a woman to show them that the dogs were treated with the same consideration on the operating table as are human beings.

CARPENTERS DEFEND PRESENT WAGE RATE

Say $1.25 an Hour Is Not More Than Is Necessary for American Standard of Living.

The Carpenters' District Council, representing about 4000 union carpenters who voted in the recent wage referendum against a proposed 25 per cent reduction in wages to lower building costs, today issued a statement asserting the union wage for carpenters, $1.25 an hour, is not more than is necessary to maintain the American standard of living.

The statement points out that carpenters work an average of only 150 to 200 days a year. Statistics from employers' publications are quoted to show that the cost of labor in construction work is not comparatively excessive.

The statement questions the authority of the proposed Citizens' Committee to determine wage scales without giving the workmen themselves a voice in the deliberations of the committee, and asserts that the Carpenters' Union also is a citizens' committee of about 4000 men which feels it has a right to fix the price of labor in view of the fact that retail dealers fix the prices of commodities which the carpenters must buy.

Comparative Cost Tables.
The statement in part is as follows:
"In the event the 'Citizens' Committee' is animated by a righteous purpose to accomplish a reduction in the cost of home building or general construction, rather than the single purpose of hammering down wages, we wish to submit a statement, published in the American Contractor of Dec. 2, 1931, showing the relation of labor costs to the entire cost of building:

"Romance of Real Estate."
"This table is submitted in order to show that wages are a minor factor in the entire cost, and that other elements of cost should be given at least equal consideration, a fact that seems to be generally overlooked by the public as well as other agencies directly concerned."
"There is another factor concerning which a strange silence is maintained by those who are most active in trying to reduce wages, and that is the cost of building sites. A man may purchase a piece of vacant property, hold it for a short time, and, with no effort or sacrifice on his part, sell it for a price that nets him a comfortable fortune. This transaction is usually referred to as a 'romance of real estate,' and the gentleman who accomplishes this feat is honored and held in esteem as a benefactor of our city."

Geddes to Visit Pacific Coast.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, accompanied by Mrs. Geddes and his personal secretary, Hugh Tennant, will leave Washington tomorrow night on a visit to the Pacific coast. He expects to return to Washington April 11.

INGROWN TOE NAILS

Nail Turns Out Itself If you
Toughen Skin Underneath

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic, unmanufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Keeps Your Stove Shining Bright

Gives a brilliant glossy shine that does not rub off or dust off—that remains to the iron—that lasts three times as long as any other.

Black Silk Stove Polish

is in a class by itself. It's more carefully made and made from better materials. It's the only one that gives your stove that glossy, black, mirror-like shine that lasts so long. If you don't find it in your neighborhood grocery store, you can order it from the factory direct. There's a "Black Silk" in Every Drug Store.

$2000 FIRE FROM LOOSE GAS CONNECTION ON STILL
Firemen Report Cause of Blaze at 5345 West Avenue; Woman Burned Fighting Flames.
A fire, which caused about $2000 damage to the dwelling of Frank Becker at 5345 West avenue, yesterday afternoon, was said by firemen to have been caused by a loose gas connection on a still in the basement. Mrs. Becker was burned about the hands in trying to extinguish the fire. She denied knowledge of the still; the basement having been rented to foreigners, she said.
Richard F. Fell of 1514 Arsenal street and Arthur Quantin of 2622 South Broadway were arrested when a stalled automobile in which they were seated at Lemper avenue and Arsenal street was found to contain 150 bottles of moonshine whiskey. Other police arrests, for liquor law violations were Sam Rutstein, fruit store proprietor at 907 North Fourteenth street, and Jerome Creits in his home at 4615 Bulwer avenue.
Federal agents yesterday arrested Adam Hockmeyer, a saloonkeeper at 301 South Fourteenth street, and his son, Arthur; Steve Stavrianopoulos, bartender at 901 Market street, and Lawrence Boveri, bartender at 4274 Easton avenue, on charges of sale of whiskey.

FIVE PERSONS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

John L. Lister, Mail Carrier.
Suffers Fractured Skull When Hit at Thirteenth and Market.

In a series of automobile accidents in which five persons were injured yesterday, the most serious case was that of John L. Lister, 51 years old, of the Laclede Hotel, mail carrier No. 1, who suffered a fractured skull, broken nose and severe cuts on the face when knocked down and dragged by an automobile at Thirteenth and Market streets at 1 p. m.

Lister was crossing Market street, from the north to the south side, at the west side of Thirteenth street, and ran in front of an eastbound Laclede car. Just as he had cleared the car tracks he was knocked down by an automobile driven east alongside the street car by Arthur Kirk, 4447 Cottage avenue, a regular chauffeur. Man's Arm Broken When 4 Autos Figure in Collision.

Four automobiles figured in a collision at Nineteenth and Locust streets at 4:40 p. m., in which Fred Miller, 23, of 2723 Chouteau avenue, suffered a fracture of the right arm and internal injuries.

Mrs. Anna Ramsey, 4337 Maryland avenue, accompanied by Mrs. B. F. Spencer, 4468 West Pine boulevard, was driving a Ford coupe west on Locust street when the rear right hub of a delivery truck driven in the same direction by Roy Duntz 1607 North Euclid avenue, became locked with the front left hub of the coupe, pushing the coupe against a Dodge roadster and knocking the roadster against a fourth automobile. The two latter machines were parked in front of 1807 Locust street. April Miller was pumping air into a tire of the roadster. He was jammed between the two parked cars.

Miss Minerva Doyle, 28, of 3726 Delmar boulevard, crossing Washington avenue in front of 1319 at 8:15 p. m., ran in front of an eastbound Page car and was knocked down and injured by a taxicab driven east by William Barrett, 4564 McMillan avenue.

Mrs. Marie Ellen Surles, 59, of 3709 North Twenty-fifth street, was cut on the head, right arm and left shoulder when knocked down at Twenty-fifth street and Bremen avenue at noon by a lumber truck driven by Gus Nieman, 2017 Bremen avenue.

Why March is Most Dangerous

March is the most dangerous month of the year because the change of season is more than a good many systems can stand. Too often it is true that the sick "last only till Spring." But if the system is fortified, if the impurities are driven from the blood, and the nerve tissues fed with wholesome and strength-giving food medicine, there is no danger in the change of seasons. Father John's Medicine is invaluable as a tonic in the Spring. It strengthens the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—builds up the body. It is this power that has made it so successful in treating colds and throat troubles. No weakening stimulants, morphine or other dangerous drugs.

bound to be. No one can look into the future with certainty, but the conditions and circumstances are of the most menacing character. The reference here is to the island of Sakhalin, the southern half of which is Japanese territory. Sakhalin lies just off Vladivostok. "Aim Really Powerful Alliance." "The whole truth," said Reed, "is that this was intended to be an alliance so powerful and so potential that the nations could rely upon it as a matter of defense against the world or, if you please, and could afford, because of a mutual obligation of defense and assistance, to cut down their navies. "We are told that we could not have disarmament, without having the four-power treaty. Why? Because the power of the four-power treaty was to take the place of the power of the navies and armies of these countries. We were to abrogate them and consolidate them and put them in a position where they would operate together and in such an arrangement that we could all afford to cut down our armament. Now, that argument having been put forth, we are told that this treaty is not a treaty of alliance, not a treaty of mutual support and help, not a treaty wherein the majority of nations will compel an offending member to obey the terms of the treaty, but it is a mere sounding of brass and tinkling of cymbals, a thing not even of pretense, a mere piece of international buncombe by which the nations agree solemnly that they will sit down and talk matters over and be bound by nothing that takes place."

Again twisting Lodge, Reed said he was afraid the Senator from Massachusetts took "a little different view of something which emanates from the White House today and something which came from the White House about three years ago." At the end of his speech, Reed said: "I expect really to discuss the treaty one of these days pretty soon, but I am not prepared to do so now."

France Waiting on U. S. Ratification of Treaties Before Acting.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 9.—France and the other European countries are awaiting the United States Senate's ratification of the Washington conference agreements before submitting them to their respective Parliaments, according to a statement made by Premier Poincaré and M. Sarraut of the French delegation to that conference before the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Navy yesterday.

They added the information that the ratification of the United States Senate was likely to carry reservations, thereby entitling the other signatories to make equivalent modifications in the Pacific and naval limitation treaties. France's difficulties at Washington would be shown when the minutes of the conference were published, as the United States, it is reported, intends doing.
M. Raiberti, Minister of Marine, urged the speedy adoption of the present French naval program, which carries an appropriation of 755,000,000 francs.

ATTEMPT TO BURN HOUSE UNDER INQUIRY

Investigation Resumed After Failure to Get Warrants Against Two Union Men, Held.

Investigation of the attempt Tuesday night to burn a dwelling at 3332 South Compton avenue, which is being constructed on the open shop plan, was resumed by the police today following inability to obtain warrants against two union men who were arrested near the house the night after the attempt to fire the place.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday night
Norman Muehler sat in his home at 3334 South Compton, and saw two men run from the house next door, enter an automobile and drive rapidly away. Muehler went over there and found an oil-soaked cord, one end of which was lighted, leading from the kitchen door to an oil-soaked pile of lumber in another room, and a can that had contained coal oil. He extinguished the blaze and notified the police.

A watch was placed on the building the following night, and shortly after midnight two men in an automobile stopped there and were arrested by the policeman on guard.
One is a union plumber and the other a union painter. There was no evidence that they had attempted to burn the place, and they were released when warrants were refused.
Albert Koberman of 4949 Alaska avenue, the builder, said the house employed both union and nonunion was about finished and that he had workmen.

When the Price is the Same

—don't you buy brands you know are best?

EVAPORATED Milk has become a necessity in most households. Borden's Evaporated Milk is a brand which meets the demands of critical American housekeepers. It is pure country milk with the cream left in—absolutely necessary in so much of your cooking.

Borden's Evaporated Milk is handled under rigid inspection from the dairy to your grocer's shelf. Herds carefully inspected and tested by skilled veterinarians, containers and their contents protected from dust, utensils properly sterilized—these and other safeguards mean a great deal in the safety of the milk you use every day.

Your grocer sells Borden's for the price of other standard brands, even though it sometimes costs him a little more. He knows that Borden's suits and satisfies his best customers.

CLOVER LEAF RAILROAD IS REPORTED SOLD

Van Sweringen Interests, Identified With Nickel Plate Line, Announce Control.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, March 9.—The Van Sweringen Co., a large Cleveland realty operator, has acquired control of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western (Clover Leaf) Railroad, O. P. Van Sweringen, vice president, announced yesterday. The Van Sweringens have been prominently identified with the financial administration of the Nickel Plate Railroad.

The deal has been pending for 30 days, Van Sweringen said, and reports had the Lake Erie & Western Railroad linked up in the negotiations. This line was not involved, Van Sweringen added.

The Clover Leaf has 449.71 miles of track, its main line extending from Toledo to East St. Louis, Ill. It was incorporated July 5, 1900, in Indiana, succeeding the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Railroad Co.

It defaulted in the payment of its bonds on Aug. 1, 1914, and the following October President Ross and R. M. Shepperd, assistant to the president, were named receivers.

The company has $10,000,000 common and the same amount of 4 per cent cumulative preferred stock outstanding, with shares at $100 par.

No change in the management or operation of the road is contemplated, Van Sweringen said.

"Officially, I know nothing of this," J. J. Bernet, president of the Nickel Plate Railroad, said. "Bear in mind that what has been done is the work of the Van Sweringen interests."

Railroad executives here said this might be the first step of the Van Sweringens to build up a transcontinental railroad.

O. P. Van Sweringen is chairman of the Nickel Plate board of directors.

BELLAIRE HEIGHTS, Fla., March 9.—Negotiations looking to the consolidation of the Nickel Plate and Clover Leaf Railroads have been in progress for some time, Walter L. L. Ross, receiver of the latter, said last night in commenting on the announcement that the Van Sweringen company had acquired control of the Clover Leaf.

GAVE LIFE FOR LOVE OF COUNTRY
Unusual Story of Man Who Refused to Renounce British Allegiance.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 9.—The story of a life sacrificed for love of country was brought to light yesterday at the Missing Persons Bureau of the police department, where efforts are being made to locate relatives of friends of a man whose body was found Tuesday in the lower bay off Fort Hamilton. The man has been identified as William Morgan Robbins, 60 years old, a native of Wales, and at one time a prosperous architect.

Robbins would never renounce his British allegiance. After years of adversity he obtained a position as clerk at the city farm colony on Staten Island. After three years' service there he was told he would have to take out citizenship papers or give up his job. He refused to do this and was forced to resign early this year. The police found that on Feb. 9 he pawned his last remaining set of architect's drawing materials and last Saturday pawned his overcoat.

REALTY MAN'S STORY OF ATTACK
James A. Hodges Tells of How in Connection With Sales.

James A. Hodges, real estate dealer, who had information charging assault issued yesterday against Harry E. Prettyman, also a realty dealer, and Robert Schapler and Fred Fansin, Prettyman's salesmen, said today that the alleged attack on him occurred Sunday on a seven-acre plot at Pinkman avenue and King's highway, for which he is agent. He said he had not attempted to interfere with sales being conducted by Prettyman on a subdivision two blocks distant.

He said Schapler had accused him of attempting to sell lots through Prettyman advertising and that the

MAGNESIA FINE FOR ACID STOMACH

Quickly Neutralizes Acidity. Stops Fermentation, Sweetens the Stomach.

Nine people in ten, when food upsets the stomach causing distress, think they are suffering from "acid stomach." An excess of acid in the stomach causes gas, heartburn, bloating and sourness.

To have a strong, healthy stomach, capable of easily and normally digesting three hearty meals a day, you simply must keep these stomach acids neutralized and the stomach contents sweet. No artificial digestants are necessary. Just get a few ounces of Eucrated Magnesia from any good drug store and take a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets in a half glass of water right after eating or whenever the slightest pain is felt. The result is amazing and you will be delighted with the almost instant relief it brings. This famous stomach sweetener combines Magnesia and Bismuth in desirable proportions and is not only splendidly effective, but perfectly harmless. Its regular use keeps the stomach sweet, strong and healthy all the time.

Eucrated Magnesia is well known to druggists everywhere, and is used annually by more than a half million people who now eat as they please, in reason with no more fear of indigestion.

attack by Prettyman, Fansin, Schapler and a fourth man followed shortly afterward. Prettyman could not be reached for a statement.

How To Avoid INFLUENZA

Nothing you can do will so effectively protect you against the Influenza or Gripe epidemic as keeping your organs of digestion and elimination active and your system free from poisonous accumulations.

Doctors and health authorities everywhere are warning people of the danger of constipation, and advising, and urging everyone, to see that the bowels and other eliminative organs act freely and regularly.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics, salts, oils, calomel and the like, are good enough to clean out the system, but do not strengthen the weakened organs; they do not build up vitality.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome constipation and get your system in such shape that you can feel reasonably sure of resisting disease. You can do so if you will just get a 25c. box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a while.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs, promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR Tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best. Sold and recommended by druggists.

CASE AGAINST J. W. GUION IS TO BE DISMISSED

Woman Whose Auto He Is Accused of Trying to Steal Will Not Be in City to Prosecute Him.

When the case against J. Walker Guion, 24 years old, 4619 Labadie avenue, is called Saturday in the Court of Criminal Correction it will be dismissed because Mrs. P. A. Skelton of 3253 Copelin avenue, whose automobile he is charged with trying to steal, had planned a trip East and did not care to stay home and prosecute. A warrant was refused today in another case in which he is held, charged with selling a mortgaged automobile.

Guion was arrested Monday night when trying to start Mrs. Skelton's machine on Enright avenue, west of Grand avenue. He told detectives a man had asked him to start it. A wire "jumper" had been placed to provide ignition. As the detectives were driving away with Guion and the machine, Mrs. Skelton emerged from a theater and halted them. Guion was held over night. Next day Frank J. Maynard complained that Guion had sold him a mortgaged Ford. He gave bond to answer to both charges. A warrant was refused Maynard today because he was not the party of the first part, the machine having changed hands several times.

WIDOW IS FOUND DEAD AT HOME

Mrs. Louisa Binhammer, 74, of 1745 Nicholson place, a widow, was found dead on the kitchen floor at her home when her daughter, Mrs. Anna Bene of 1243 Nicholson place called on her yesterday and, failing to get a response in the house, brant a window and crawled in. Two burners of a gas stove were turned on, but not lighted.

Doctors said Mrs. Binhammer had died from apoplexy. Mrs. Binhammer had been under the care of a doctor for 10 days.

Rice, 235A Main St., Adams, N. Y., for a free trial of his wonderful stimulating application. Just put it on the rupture and the muscles begin to tighten; they begin to bind together so that the opening closes naturally and the need of a support or truss is then done away with. Don't neglect to send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother you what is the use of wearing supports all your life? Why suffer this nuisance? Why run the risk of gangrene and such dangers from a weak and ineffectual little truss, the kind that has ruined thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around.
Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing and has

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
That is the joyful cry of thousands
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and acid liver.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never harm them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth-
-bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—headache—torpid liver—constipation," you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take them every night just before sleep. Try them. 35c and 30c.

CASHIER OF AUTO FIRM HELD ON EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE
S. D. Raymond, Admitting $250 Shortage, Says Loss of $800 in Dice Game Caused Undoing.
Samuel D. Raymond, 29 years old, 377 North Taylor avenue, until recently cashier, bookkeeper, accountant and office manager of the White Co. automobile dealers, 3422
Lindell boulevard, was arrested at 6 p. m. yesterday at the office of a bonding company in the Central National Building, on a warrant charging embezzlement of $200.
Raymond admitted today a shortage of between $250 and $300, representing time payments received by him and not accounted for. He attributes his undoing to a dice game at the Claridge Hotel in which he lost $800. He went there, he says, at the invitation of a good customer of the house, whose good will he wanted to retain. They "lickered him up," he says, and when the game was over his $100 was gone and he owed $700, for which he gave his notes.
The good customer, he says, enforced payment of the notes by threatening to tell the company.
Raymond was forced to the wall. He made from the sale of the car, expecting to get clear with the proceeds, and took money from the company to cover the interim. His shortage was discovered and he was discharged three weeks ago.

FIRST PAYMENT ON MISSOURI BONUS MAY BE MADE MAY 1
Application Blanks Will Be Printed Soon for Distribution to Former Soldiers.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—
The State Bonus Commission, which will distribute to former service men of Missouri $15,000,000 to be realized from bonds sold March 1, has decided that no application for bonuses will be received from applicants who appear in person, but that all applications must be mailed to the commission here.
The blank forms, which will be printed in the near future, will be sent in blocks to posts of the American Legion and other recognized organizations of veterans, to reliable banks, county officials and other similar places, so that the former service men of each community may obtain them with as little trouble as possible. Men who now reside outside the State will be supplied with blanks direct. It has been decided not to require that discharges be mailed to the commission, but instead, a questionnaire must be answered by each applicant, which will establish his eligibility and length of service.
The first installment of bond money,
$3,000,000, will be received by the State about April 1, and payments will be begun as soon thereafter as possible, though probably few, if any, will be paid before May 1, attaches of the commission have said.

Blackmail Charge Denied.
FORT SMITH, Ark., March 9.—A charge of attempted blackmail against Edward H. Hunter, former president of the Iowa State Bank of Des Moines, Ia., and George A. Dis-more, former cashier of the bank, was dismissed here yesterday by the County Prosecutor, who said he would take the case before the grand jury. The charge was the result of the Iowa's search for bonds taken in a holdup of the Des Moines bank.

KROGER'S
Better Foods—Lower Prices!
For LENT
the finest of FISH
Now that we are well into Lent there will be an increased demand for sea foods. Kroger's Stores pride themselves in the quality of fish they sell. Nowhere will you find better grades. Fish is indeed a welcome change from the meat round fare. Although low in price it is high in food value—better than practically all is eatable.
Eat more of this palatable, nourishing and economical food during the Lenten season. And remember that at Kroger's you can always get a better grade for the same price you pay elsewhere.

SCIENTIFIC SPOOK STALKER PROVING TO BE MYSTERY TOO

Antagonish "Ghosts" Keeps Under Cover, but Scouring Doctor Spreads Mystification.

By the Associated Press.
CALEDONIA MILLS, Nova Scotia, March 2.—Antagonish has two mysteries—the famous "ghost" whose uncanny pranks drove Alex MacDonald and his family from their comfortable farm house into a Nova Scotia blizzard and Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, American scientist, who came here to bait the eerie one in his lair.

The "ghost" kept out of sight entirely and the physician, although visible as he scoured here and there, proved almost as much of a problem for the members of the party of spook stalkers.

By way of beginning the day right, Dr. Prince announced yesterday morning that his first night in the "haunted" house had passed uneventfully.

His first care of the day was for the strange contrivance of strings and little bells, constituting the ghost trap with which he surrounded himself last night. This he carefully wound up, examined and tucked away into a case with a thoughtful air.

After his morning's investigation, Dr. Prince sought quarters in a farm house about two miles away, and started work on his report of the proceedings thus far.

MacDonald was asked to bring his family back to the house, but he would make no decision until he had talked the matter over with his wife.

Child on Fire Saved by Mother.

John Helms, 7-month-old son of Mrs. Sherman Helms, 3726 La Salle street, was saved from injury yesterday when his clothes caught fire, by the quick action of his mother in wrapping him in a rug to smother the flames. The child, while in a chair near a stove, had tipped over a can of coal oil, which ignited on top of the stove and set fire to his dress.

PRUFROCK & LITTON Fourth and St. Charles Clearance Sale of Rockers and Chairs $14

To make room for our new stock of sun parlor furniture, we have marked down a number of shopworn rockers and chairs of brown and ivory wicker. Some are soiled, others are like new.
Some of the chairs are like the illustration, with upholstered seats and back of colorful cretonne.
Others are even prettier, with well rounded backs and broad arms, or with a magazine rack at one side.
These Chairs will all be closed out at the sale price of $14. The values are $32, $29.50, $25, $24 and $22. This is the lowest price we have ever quoted on these high-grade rockers, but we want to dispose of them in a hurry.

cussion of the school tax question.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$7.00 & $8.00 SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

ALSO MANY STYLES AT $5.00 & $6.00

WHEN YOU BUY W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES
CONSIDER THE EXTRA QUALITY YOU RECEIVE FOR THE PRICE PAID

W. L. Douglas shoes are made of the best and finest selected leathers the market affords. We employ the highest paid, skilled shoemakers, all working with an honest determination to make the best shoes for the price that money can buy.

When you need shoes look for a W. L. Douglas store. We own 108 stores located in the principal cities. You will find in our stores many kinds and styles of high-class, fine shoes that we believe are better shoe values for the money than you can buy elsewhere. Our $7.00 and $8.00 shoes are exceptionally good values. There is one point we wish to impress upon you that is worth dollars for you to remember. W. L.
Douglas shoes are put into all of our stores at factory cost. We do not make one cent of profit until the shoes are sold to you. When you buy shoes at any one of our stores you pay only one small retail profit.

No matter where you live, shoe dealers can supply you with W. L. Douglas shoes. They cost no more in San Francisco than they do in New York. Insist upon having W. L. Douglas shoes with the name and retail price stamped on the sole. Do not take a substitute and pay one or two extra profits. Order direct from the factory and save money.

Blankets will stay soft and fleecy washed this way, says famous woolen manufacturer

Lever Bros. Co.,
Cambridge, Mass.
Gentlemen:

We picked out several of our finest blankets and had them washed in Lux. Each blanket was given the number of laundries it would normally receive.

The blankets were still soft and fleecy at the end of the washings. They showed no signs of yellowing or spotting and the colored stripes and fancy borders did not run.

There was a complete absence of the little balls of matted wool that make a blanket lumpy in texture. Washing with a strong soap will mat wools in this way.

We attribute the satisfactory results we obtained with Lux only in part to the fact that its flake form does away with rubbing. Even more important to our minds is its absolute purity and mildness. It will cleanse the finest woolen with entire safety.

Very truly yours,
D. P. Russell

HARDING'S REPLY ON THE ISHII AGREEMENT
President Tells Senate Arrangement Is Superseded by Treaty.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—The President yesterday informed the Senate that the Lansing-Ishii agreement has been completely superseded by the nine-Power treaty relating to China now before the Senate.

The President's reply to the Borah resolution at the outset made reference to the two points on which information was requested, namely, the present status and binding effect of the Lansing-Ishii agreement, and whether the four-Power treaty if ratified would abrogate, nullify or in any way modify the agreement.

"Only Declaration of Policy."
"The so-called Lansing-Ishii agreement, signed Nov. 2, 1917," the President then continued, "was not a treaty but was an exchange of notes between the Secretary of State of the United States and Viscount Ishii, Ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Japan on special mission. It was described in the notes themselves as a public announcement of the desires and intentions shared by the two Governments with regard to China. This exchange of notes, in the nature of things, did not constitute anything more than a declaration of executive policy. It is hardly necessary to point out that such a declaration, or exchange of notes, could not have any effect whatever inconsistent with treaty obligations whether existing or thereafter coming into force."

"The statement in the notes in question which apparently called forth your resolution, is as follows: 'The Governments of the United States and Japan recognize that territorial propinquity creates special relations between countries, and, consequently, the Government of the United States recognizes that Japan has special interest in China and particularly in the part to which her possessions are contiguous.'"

"In the light of the other declarations of the notes in question, it has been the view of the Government of the United States that this reference to special interests in China did not recognize any right or claim inconsistent with the sovereignty or political independence of China or with our 'open door' policy."

"That this was not an erroneous construction appears from the meaning ascribed to the phrase 'special interests in China' in the final statement made on behalf of Japan at the recent conference. The phrase was interpreted to mean that propinquity gave rise to an interest differing only in degree, but not in kind, as compared with the interests of other Powers. It was said to intimate 'no claim or pretension of any kind prejudicial to China or to any other foreign nation.'"

ADVERTISEMENTS.
SULPHUR SOOTHES UGLY, ITCHING SKIN
The First Application Makes Skin Cool and Comfortable

If you are suffering from eczema or some other torturing, embarrassing skin trouble, you may quickly be rid of it by using Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist.

This sulphur preparation, because of its germ-destroying properties, seldom fails to quickly subdue itching, even of fiery eczema. The first application makes the skin cool and comfortable. Rash and blotches are healed right up. Menthosulphur is applied like any pleasant cold cream and is perfectly harmless. You can obtain a small jar from any good druggist.

"It is thus agreed that the territorial and administrative integrity of China is to be maintained and most unambiguously to develop an effective government; to use the purpose of effecting the maintenance of the equal opportunity for all nations to take advantage of the territory of China in order to secure the rights of the Chinese people to the fullest extent of friendly relations and to maintain the security of such state."

"More specifically Powers agree that they will support their respective policies in seeking and which might purport to favor of their interests, superiority of right, commercial or economic in any design, China, or any such privilege as would tend to the detriment of any other right of undertaking trade or industry in participating with the government or with any in any category of power or by reason of or by geographical situation or by the application of the principle of opportunity."

For Threescore Years and Ten

Over the years that make a long lifetime, Fruit of the Loom has won the high regard of women because they have always found it absolutely reliable.

The strong, well-spun thread—the fine, close weave—the smooth, even finish—all are points that have led Fruit of the Loom to its time-honored position.

Fruit of the Loom

Since women first bought Fruit of the Loom they have used it for white sewing—nightclothes, underwear, aprons, boys' shirts and blouses, men's shirts, sheets, pillow cases, and numerous other articles.

You have the advantage of being able to buy in nearly any dry goods store Fruit of the Loom in white, standard plain colors, and interesting printed designs with colors guaranteed fast. And—both white and colors are used by leading manufacturers for ready-made articles.

Identify Fruit of the Loom by the famous Fruit label. Always look for the name printed on the selvage of the white goods.

tion," and not to connote "any intention of securing preferential or exclusive economic rights in China."

The Nine-Power Treaty.

"Happily, as a result of the conference, it is not now necessary to consider any possible ambiguity in the expressions used in the Lansing-Ishii agreement of 1917, as any question which they might have raised has been completely set at rest by the treaty, now before the Senate, to which the United States and Japan are parties. I refer to the treaty between the nine Powers which explicitly sets forth the principles and policies to be maintained by the signatory Powers in relation to China.

"It is thus agreed to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China; to provide the fullest and most unembarrassed opportunity to develop and maintain for herself an effective and stable government; to use their influence for the purpose of effectually establishing and maintaining the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce and industry of all nations throughout the territory of China; to refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to secure special rights or privileges which would abridge the rights of subjects or citizens of friendly states, and from countenancing action inimical to the security of such states.

Specific Agreements.
"More specifically, the signatory Powers agree they will not seek nor support their respective nationals in seeking any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of their interests any general superiority of rights with respect to commercial or economic development in any designated region of China, or any such monopoly or privilege as would deprive the nationals of any other Power of the right of undertaking any legitimate trade or industry in China, or of participating with the Chinese Government or with any local authority, in any category of public enterprise, or which by reason of its scope, duration or geographical extent is calculated to frustrate the practical application of the principle of equal opportunity.

"And further, the signatory Powers agree not to support any agreements by their respective nationals with each other designed to create spheres of influence or to provide for the enjoyment of mutually exclusive opportunities in designated parts of Chinese territory.

"The negotiation of this treaty is in itself the most formal declaration of the policy of the executive in relation to China, and supersedes any executive understanding or declaration that could possibly be asserted to have any contrary import. If the Senate assents to this treaty, the principles and policies which the treaty declares will be supported and enforced by a binding international agreement.

Replies to Senate's Question.
"My answer, then, to your first question is that the so-called Lansing-Ishii agreement has no binding effect whatever, either with respect to the past or to the future, which is in any sense inconsistent with the principles and policies explicitly declared in the nine-Power treaty to which I have referred.

"As to your second question, I may say that the four-Power treaty does not refer to China and hence does not directly bear upon the Lansing-Ishii notes which related exclusively to China. The four-Power treaty, however, is an essential part of the plan to create conditions in the Far East at once favorable to the policies we have long advocated and to an enduring peace."

Knowing this, we exert every effort to meet this demand and as this value will prove, and which we are justly proud of. A Dining Chair is the most useful of all pieces of furniture in your home, as a result it must be built strong. Come see how strongly made these are.

These Chairs are made of solid oak. Each corner well braced to insure longevity and to stand the hard use they are subject to. The seats are genuine leather. You will wonder at the excellent hand rubbed golden finish. The design is beautiful and conservative to match any golden finished dining suite. The reason for this low price and excellent value can best be told by our huge purchases for our eight stores in seven cities. It stands to reason we can save you money.

Pruett, Smith, Overlock, Deien and Henry Do Fine Work—Regular Lineup Used.

BRONKIE JOINS FOHLMEN

St. Louis Manager Expects to Keep Former Mobile Leader for General Utility Duty.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOBILE, Ala., March 9.—Herman Bronkie, last year manager of the Mobile ball club and star second baseman of the Southern League, arrived last night and today will take part in his first workout of the spring training season. Bronkie appears to be in excellent condition. It is probable that he will remain with the Browns throughout the season for utility duty.

The regulars yesterday handed the youngsters their first defeat of the season, 4 to 3, and it might also be mentioned that it was the first time this spring that the regular lineup of the first team has been in the game. With the exception of pitchers, Manager Fohl used the same players and batting order that will face the Cardinals April 8 and 9, and again will line up against the White Sox April 12 in the opening American League game at Chicago. George Fohlman, first and Johnny Tobin in right field.

Pruett Effective. Hubert Pruet, Frank Smith and John Overlock each worked three innings against the regulars in the order named. Pruet, a left-hander, had but little trouble in the first three innings disposing of the regulars, not allowing a single hit. Smith was on the mound in the fourth, fifth and sixth, and was touched for five hits and two runs.

Overlock got by nicely in the seventh and eighth innings, but was touched for two hits, a single in the seventh by Robertson which the feet-footed St. Louisan beat out, and a double to left by Billings in the eighth.

Work of Recruits Pleases.

Frank Henry, a left-hander, pitched great ball for the regulars in his three innings of mound duty. Not a single player reached first base out of the nine that faced him. Henry Deien next took up the pitching burden, yesterday, and he also was effective. The tall right-hander allowed only two hits, Collins getting a single to left in the fourth and Shorten hitting to center for one base in the sixth.

Roy Davis pitched the seventh, eighth and ninth, and was touched for two hits, a single in the seventh by Robertson which the feet-footed St. Louisan beat out, and a double to left by Billings in the eighth.

THREE-GAME SERIES TO DECIDE VALLEY BASKET TITLE NOW DISCUSSED

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 9.—Missouri and Kansas will meet in Kansas City for a three-game series, if the tie for the Missouri Valley basketball championship is to be decided. Z. G. Cleveland, Missouri Athletic director, said today, upon returning from Kansas City, where he conferred with Dr. F. C. Allen, Kansas University director.

Cleveland had proposed a single game to decide the tie, but the two teams, but Allen would not agree to this, expressing the view that a three-game series would bring a real decision.

The Athletic Committee of the University of Missouri will meet this afternoon to consider Dr. Allen's counter proposal, and it is believed that a favorable action will be taken, as there appears to be no desire here to quibble over the championship question. The Kansas athletic board will also take up the question today, it is understood.

Following this morning, said that all members of the conference had agreed to permit Missouri and Kansas to meet in a post-season game, at that Convention Hall is available and that Missouri is willing and eager to play.

HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE FORMED IN ILLINOIS

The St. Clair-Madison County High School League with five entrants was organized at a meeting at Granite City. The schools joining were Wood, River, Alton, Granite City, Belleville and East St. Louis. There also is a possibility that Collinsville will come into the circuit.

Elmer Frohman was elected president of the league and Al Osborne, secretary. Fred Friedland and C. Schatz were named as a committee to arrange a baseball schedule.

Lewis Arrives Tomorrow.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, was scheduled to arrive here tomorrow for his match with Jack Jurka, Australian champion, at the Osborn next Monday. Jim London, who opposed Jatinra Gobar also is due today.

Langford to Box Fulton.

STARDUSTON, Ill., March 9.—Sam Langford, negro heavyweight, and Fred Fulton have been signed up for a 10-round no-decision fight here March 22.

Girls' Basketball Scores.

Three games played last night in the Girls' Municipal Basketball League resulted as follows: Leawoods 23, Ashland 11; Woodchicks 2, Kynsbergers 1; Rodgers 21, Bobs 8.

Boxer Knocked Out Twice, and Out of Ring Once in Same Bout

Amateur Battle Almost as Strenuous for White of the 138th as the Argentine Engagement—Five Knockouts Feature First Night of Western A. A. U. Boxing Tourney.

By John E. Gray.

THERE was severe fighting on the Grand avenue front last night, in the big drive toward Boston being made by boxers of the Western district of the Amateur Athletic Association of America. Eleven engagements took place between the young knights of the padded mitt, in the arena at the First Regiment Armory.

Casualties were heavy, particularly in the 138th Regiment, but only a small detachment seemed any nearer the objective—the national amateur championship tournament next month.

Men from Jefferson Barracks and the 138th Regiment were among those entered. In most instances they deserved a war cross for distinguished valor; but as for boxing merit—Attention! Fix gas masks! After the battle the wounded were checked off as follows: James A. Little, 138th, sprained or broken left wrist; Private Dave Feigenbaum, 138th, one cut lip and disarranged septum; L. T. White, 138th, one bent or broken rib on his back once, staggered so hard that he rolled forward in a complete somersault and was knocked out twice—all in one bout! If he did not continue fighting it was because he was not "jerry" to his surroundings. The referee decided White had had enough.

Jaworsky a Human Torpedo. In this bout there was no time to discover if White had any of the elements of boxing about him. Jaworsky, who, according to his commanding officer, had not had on a glove in two years previous to last night, leaped from his chair and began to throw "big berths" into his opponent. He was a cyclone and he buffeted the enemy about savagely and finally sent him crashing to the canvas.

Then the amateur rules a knock-out ends a round and the referee does not count. White was limp. His seconds dragged him to his corner and worked hard to bring him around. He groggily stepped to the ring and gamboled for most of the second round, and the storm again began. A right-hander sent White rolling completely over on the canvas, but he came up standing. Another drove him through the ropes. A moment later he was knocked out of the ring, landing on his back with a resounding whack, on the platform outside the ropes. They shoved him back in for one more round, and Jaworsky obliged them by smashing a terrific left that apparently broke White's nose and encircled the luckless soldier's head, sending him crashing stretched White limp on the canvas for the second time in two rounds.

Here They Are, Keepers! This was only one of many relentless fights between unequalled opponents, resulting in some grievous punishment being borne with great gameness by most of the men—all for a medal, or the remote possibility of a trip to Boston.

Training Camp Gossip

Private Rookies Get Workout.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 9.—Infielders, trying for positions in the regular lineup of the Pittsburgh Nationals, were sent into action for their initial practice at West Baden, Ind., yesterday by Manager George Gibson. Charley Grimm went to his own station at first; Cotton Tierney, who played right field for the Nationals last year, was sent to the barnyard, third. After a fast workout, the veteran Cooper was sent to the mound. He tossed for batting practice the entire squad, including regulars and recruits, taking turns at the plate.

Grabber Sees Holdouts. SEGUIN, Tex., March 9.—Two work-outs comprised today's schedule for the Chicago White Sox in training here. Harry M. Grabner, club secretary, was in camp, but was non-committal about Kerr and Falk, whom he had seen on his way regarding salary arrangements. The stiff program today and Grabner's arrival to supervise the weeding out process set the youngsters trying for permanent berths into vigorous display of their "stuff."

Goslin Is Heavy Hitter. WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Washington squad went through another hard workout at their Tampa (Fla.) training camp, yesterday. Every pitcher on the team excepting Johnson and Erickson took a turn at the mound during the batting drill, in which Leon Goslin, slated for a regular outfield berth this season, drove the curlew's offerings about in impressive style. Manager Miller thinks Goslin will make his outfield strong enough to compare favorably with the infield.

Collector's John Reda. MINERAL WELLS, Tex., March 9.—With the Western District of the Texas Chalmers "Collector's" crowd of Cincinnati Reds in camp here saw number one even score. Foster, an infielder, was in good shape when he arrived and will be done in the Reds' first exhibition game here Friday.

Pete Donohue, the slim right-hand twister of the Chicago, will hurl in the Chicago White Sox, his home town, in that city, Saturday.

Sammy Magee, the star third baseman, is still mopey.

MINNAPOLIS, Minn., March 9.—The Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce has arranged for a baseball game between the Chicago White Sox and the St. Paul Saints, to be played at the Minneapolis Stadium, Saturday, March 11.

Sore Arm to Keep John Lavan Out of Game With Dallas

Cardinal Shortstop Taking Only Light Workouts—Second Team Pounds Bailey.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ORANGE, Tex., March 9.—Facing the second team yesterday, Bill Bailey was hammered hard, and the second-stringers won their first game from the regulars. They rubbed it in a bit by running up the score to 13-2.

Bailey performed for three innings. Getting by the first inning without being fatally injured, he was walloped for 11 hits and the same number of runs in the next two sessions. Frequent shifts of outfielders went to the clubhouse. Riviere went in for the regulars and he, getting the "end" of the batting tornado, was hit for four hits and a pair of runs. For the second team Barfoot and North pitched. Barfoot permitted only one hit in the first three innings, then slipped a bit and was spanked for three hits and two runs. North was invincible in two innings. The lopsided contest was called after the sixth.

Some "Speckled" Pitching. Bailey made some real records for "speckled" pitching during the saturnalia of sweating in which he was the central figure. In the second inning he walked one, fanned another and allowed four singles and a double. In the third he fanned two and tossed out another after starting the frame by permitting the first six men up to the plate to reach base. Three were for one base, one for two, another for three and the sixth was a home run smash over the wall in left by Pitcher Barfoot.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 9.—By virtue of their victories yesterday, Donald Anderson of St. Louis; Frank C. Newton, Brookline, Mass.; William B. Langford, Chicago, and R. W. Woolworth, New York, will meet today in the semifinal round of the A. A. U. tennis championship. Anderson, medalist, won his match from A. J. Mendes, winner of last year's tournament, by a score of 2 up and 1 to play.

If Anderson stops Newton he probably will win the tournament.

THIRD ROUND GAMES IN A. A. U. BASKET TOURNEY ARE SCHEDULED TONIGHT

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 9.—Missouri and Kansas basketball teams will meet this evening in the third round of the A. A. U. basketball tournament here tonight. The winners of tonight's game will go into the semifinal tomorrow night.

The pairings: Washburn College, Topeka, Kan., vs. Lowe and Campbell, Kansas City, Mo.; Louisville, Ky., vs. Southwestern College, Winfield, Kan.; Indiana, Ind., vs. Indianapolis, Ind.; Kansas City A. C., Kansas City, Mo., vs. 1921 National champions, vs. Toledo, O.; March 9.—W. Huit of St. Louis was the star bowler at this morning's rolling in the A. B. C. tourney. He hit the maples for 642 in the singles, which places him in a tie with Otto Stein Jr. of St. Louis, for ninth place.

Huit started with 189 score, came back with 229 and finished with 221. Foxall and Opperman were high in today's St. Louis doubles, getting a 1155 total. In the five-man event the Monahans, St. Louis, last night got an even 2560. Today's St. Louis doubles: Foxall..... 236 211 150—597 Opperman..... 182 215 168—555 Total..... 211 180 201—572 Kresling..... 212 190 199—571 Total..... 211 180 201—572

HOPPE TO RETURN HERE FRIDAY AND TRAIN FOR BALKLINE TITLE MATCH

CHICAGO, March 9.—Willie Hoppe, former champion, who will meet Jake Schaefer for the world's billiard championship here, March 27 to 29, arrived in Chicago yesterday. Hoppe will play Charles Peterson at La Salle, Ill., tomorrow night and after that will go to St. Louis to complete his practice for the match with Schaefer. The former champion is confident he will regain his title.

MARIN PLESTINA THROWS DEMETRIAL IN 7TH ROUND

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 9.—Marin Plestina, Chicago heavyweight wrestler, threw Bill Demetrial, also of Chicago, in the seventh round of a 15-round match here last night after 7 minutes and 25 seconds of wrestling. He drove a cross and wrist lock to win the fall.

ENTRIES FOR WOMEN'S TENPIN TOURNEY CLOSE

Entries for the annual handicap tournament of the Women's City Bowling Association will close Saturday night. The tourney will be on a 75 per cent handicap basis. There will be three events, team, doubles and singles. Twelve teams from the Missouri Pacific League have entered, as well as those from several other organizations.

Joe Bush, Wally Schang and Bob Shawkey will probably remain here for the exhibition game at New Orleans, Friday. Manager Miller said he expected to work several pitchers in the game. He said he probably would not let Carter Elliott, a rookie, at the Keystone sack.

Ruth and Schang Depart.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the last Yankee players to be lined up for the continental tour, left New York today, for New Orleans to join Manager Huggins and the remainder of his spring training squad.

Kenrick Plays Alumni.

The Kenrick High School basketball team is scheduled to play the Alumni quint on the Kenrick court tonight. Kelly, Steele, Rotermund, Duggan, Mortika and Mullen will be some of the players in the Alumni lineup.

Cliff Brady Granted Permission to Return Here for Soccer Final

ED JUDGE, an official of the Scullin Steel Co., yesterday received a letter from Cliff Brady, the Scullin soccer team's star forward, who at present is training in the South with the Rochester club of the International League, that he would be able to return for the national title game with the Todd March 19. Brady wrote that he had received permission from George Staffings, manager of the team, to return home for the tilt.

Judge asserted that he had wired transportation to Brady and that he probably would return home a day before the contest.

Manager Tate Brady will send his athletes through a strict workout at the High School field this afternoon. It is planned to hold three practices next week, so the players will be in shape to go at full speed for the entire 90 minutes.

THE ROOKIE'S LAMENT.

'TIS the voice of the rookie I hear him complain. "They send me down South with the ball team to train. Although I am always in mid-season form And ready and anxious to put on a storm."

"I keep in condition both winter and spring. Though fully aware it won't get me a thing. Some holdout up North who is rolling in fat Will make his appearance and that will be that."

"The manager sends me down South in the spring. And keeps me attached to the end of string; Then ships me away to some water-logged town. And if I make good he will give it a yank."

'Tis the voice of the rookie I hear him complain. "These major league managers give me a pain; But when I am known as the Kaiser of Klout For all this back pay I intend to hold out."

Woman Who Heads $20,000,000-a-Year Business Interested in Humanity More Than Money

Miss Ella Schooley, Directing Financial Head of the Y. W. C. A., Here for Conferences With Local Officers.

By MARGUERITE MARTIN.

TO be a power in a big business and to be a power in spiritual uplift, is an ideal rarely attained at one and the same time. Great philanthropists usually have waited until their fortunes were built before they began to do good with their money, money-making and uplifting often being in conflict until a certain point of success in the former is attained.

Here is a woman, Miss Ella Schooley, directing financial head of a $20,000,000-a-year business, and a business whose sole purpose is altruistic, humanitarian service on behalf of girls and women. She is head of the finance department of the Young Women's Christian Association, responsible for the income and outlay of an annual budget of $20,000,000, which includes the upkeep of properties and investments valued at another $20,000,000.

Turn between opportunities for economic success and native inclinations toward the service of humanity, many modern women will regard as enviable Miss Schooley's realization of the two ideals in one. Miss Schooley will be remembered in St. Louis as general secretary for the Y. W. during the campaign through which the central building on Locust street was erected. No doubt she was in that campaign a moving power of whom we heard less than we did of some of the speech makers and money gatherers. She is now, as head of the finance department, a member of the National Board, which is composed of women of wealth and well-known names of whom we are apt to hear more frequently than of the paid executives who do the actual work.

In advance of a financial campaign to be waged by the Y. W. in St. Louis next month, Miss Schooley has been consulting with local officers and those of the South Central field, the past week. We who knew her during her St. Louis residence find her, for all her important post, changed not at all. No new airs, no finer clothes, no new manner; just the same plain, spinster-looking, simple, friendly Miss Schooley. Although she occupies a position of fact, her responsibility for the handling of the yearly income and outlay of $20,000,000 and a staff of 180 persons, including a campaign service bureau in her department, the interviewer could not keep her on the subject of money alone. She quickly changed it to the subject of people, humanity.

After leaving the St. Louis association in 1919, she made a trip around the world "to study people." "Our job is character building," she said, "and my particular job is the study of people. Psychology is the great factor to reckon with in handling financial campaigns. One must be a human being with knowledge and understanding of people to succeed at the money raising and the money spending. The argument that will clinch a bargain in one part of the country will utterly fail in another part of the country. The needs of young women in a South American city are likely to be altogether different from their needs in a North American city."

Women are more difficult to get along with than men, she said. "I have no trouble in convincing men that our business now ranking with the so-called big business undertakings of the country, is economically administered. The fact is, it is too economically administered. We are setting a bad example as an organization in paying our women workers salaries lower than men would exact and receive for the same work. A man holding a position corresponding to mine, though without as much responsibility, in the Young Men's Christian Association, receives a salary twice the amount of mine. We preach the theory of equal pay for equal work, but we do not practice it. I cannot foresee when women will be paid generally on the same scale as men. That end is just another goal to be worked toward in the future."

Fashion News Notes

PARIS.—Printed georgette is queen at the instant. No afternoon gown is complete unless made of this material or combined with it. Such is the dictum of certain couturiers. The fact that the dictum is sometimes disregarded does not alter the further fact that a leveler material for the fluff spring frock has never been seen. Among the other fabrics which make this spring glorious in the fashionable quarter, are satin charmeuse in sunset tints, crepe de chine in rust, larkspur, orange and dent de lion; and various silk crepes in sand, ivory, seagull, and that other marine tone of Sorrento blue. Next to a touch of red, a touch of orange is the correct and popular feature. Some daring souls even combine the two, with results ruinous to any but the Parisienne genius.

NEW YORK.—Sand and orange navy cerise, these are the color combinations seen in smart shops here. A sports costume of sand crepe, maroon has a girly of vivid orange, with long tassels falling three inches below the hem of the skirt. The long-waisted, bloused coat, which is decidedly Russian, has facing of orange and a tiny orange vest. The navy and cerise combination is seen chiefly in figured taffetas and foulard and the little lorgnette or flower of cerise on the blue ground being the excuse for a smashing cerise girly or for cerise facings to floating sleeves and panels. Hats shown with she figured silks are of toque type and so closely covered with small navy and cerise flowers as to look like big and smoothly rounded bouquets.

In England before a woman is allowed to vote she must first sign a form stating that she is 20 years of age or more.

UNCOMMON SENSE

THE SUPER MACHINE

By JOHN BLAKE.

RUSTING machinery stored in rickety sheds or left in the sun and rain is the sign of a shiftless farmer.

Locomotives in bad repair, cars with "flat" wheels, shops with out-of-date machinery are convincing indications that a railroad is going into bankruptcy.

To prosper you must keep your machinery in good condition. That means, first, an understanding of its construction and purpose. Second, untiring industry.

The machine that was given you at birth is the most complicated machine in existence.

Yet it is automatic and as fool proof as any machine can be.

All it needs is a little consideration. It even makes its own repairs, which is something that no machine made by human hands can possibly do.

Upon the use of that machine depends your happiness and your success.

When the joints begin to creak and the signal system to suffer from crossed wires, you might as well quit. You won't be much good after that.

It is important in the beginning for you to know something about it. That does not mean expert anatomical knowledge. You need only learn efficient methods of keeping it up.

After that you must keep it in mind every day and be particularly careful not to abuse it.

It requires sleep at regular intervals. It requires the right sort of food. It requires protection from the infections we call disease.

You can, it is true, make it get along without the usual amount of sleep, with too much food, and with general neglect of protection for a time.

But not for long. Sooner or later, it will begin to creak in the hinges. Sooner or later delicate mechanism will become deranged, and then all the doctors in the world cannot fix it.

The possession of this machine is far more to you than all the money in the world. Use it well and it will be an instrument of happiness, very likely the means of independence. Neglect it and it will rust in the porches or the hospital as the shiftless farmer's machinery rusts in the rickety shed.

"Out of Nowhere"

A NEW ROMANCE

By Ruby Ayres

CHAPTER XXV.

Olive Hale came downstairs one morning with a paper in her hand. She gave it to Violet, pointing to a paragraph.

Violet read the lines listlessly.

"A marriage has been arranged, and will shortly take place, between Mr. Ronald Hastings, the young millionaire, who has recently so successfully launched the world-renowned firm of Violet's on its prosperous career, and Miss Mabel Clancey, daughter of the late John Clancey and Mrs. Clancey of Sloane Square, S. W."

The paper fell from Violet's fingers. She laughed, and she remembered the kisses Hastings had given her, and laughed again. Olive watched her curiously.

"Do you know Miss Clancey?" she asked interestedly.

"Yes, at least I tried on some hats for her one day, but she went away without buying anything. She was very ill-tempered, I remember."

"Humph! She won't be a great success as a stepmother then, eh?"

Violet started. She had forgotten Ronnie.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

"Oh, she won't be kind to him. I know she won't be kind to him," she moaned. All the grief that had grown numb during the past few days seemed to spring to life again; she paced the room like one distraught. Olive watched her.

"Do you know," she said suddenly, "old Higgs says that it wasn't Hastings who took Ronnie away at all."

Violet hardly seemed to hear. Olive repeated her words more loudly.

"Higgs! What does Mrs. Higgs know about him?" Violet asked distractedly. "I ought to know, I suppose. I know that he is Ronnie's father. Oh, Ronnie, Ronnie!" She did not cry; she only wrung her hands as if her grief were too deep for tears.

She thought of Mabel Clancey—selfish, overdressed, irritable. She would never love the boy. She would vote him a nuisance, would thrust him on one side. Her hatred against Ronald Hastings sprang afresh into flame. He was not fit to have such a son.

Olive stooped and picked up the paper.

"You look jolly ill," she said bluntly. "If you don't take care you'll be laid up. Here's a letter you haven't opened."

She took up the letter from Suture and tossed it across to Violet; she waited a moment, then left the room with a great click of high-heeled shoes.

Violet opened the letter listlessly. She did not want to read it; she hated nothing so much as Suture might have to say to her.

"Dear Vi: Can you meet me some where this evening? I want to talk to you. To save you the trouble of answering, I'll be outside Violet's at 6:30 and wait. Ever yours."

"ALFRED."

Violet threw the letter into the grate. She did not want to see him. He reminded her painfully of a past life in her life. She hated now to remember that it was hurt caused by him and his infidelity that had driven her to London in order to drown her love for him. Love! Had she ever loved him? It seemed impossible now that she had.

She was late at business. Madame reproached her sharply. Florrie Jones made a sneering remark. She felt as if she could have turned and rushed from the place. She hated the show and glare of the whole thing. She could gladly have torn the 18-guinea creation from her head and trampled it under foot; but she went on obediently parading, and smiling, and prospecting in obedience to Madame's instructions, while a faded-looking woman with wild hair sat on the plush sofa, and sipped coffee and made snail criticisms.

Just as she was released the street door was opened by the attentive commissionaire, and an elderly lady in rustling black silk came in. Violet knew at once who she was—Ronald Hastings's mother.

She came across the showroom slowly, leaning on her ebony stick. Madame in close attendance. Violet stood staring at her listlessly. There was something so sweet and motherly about her. She felt as if she would have given the world to be able to fall on her knees beside her and sob out all the wretchedness of her heart.

She felt sick and weak; the room seemed whirling round her. She groped for something to hold on to, and fell.

When she opened her eyes she was lying on one of the plush couches. Madame bent over her with ill-concealed impatience in her black eyes. Hastings's mother stood beside her looking down at her with kindly compassion.

Violet struggled to her feet. She forced a shaky laugh.

"Did I faint? Oh, I am so sorry." She looked appealingly at Madame.

Mrs. Hastings spoke rather curtly. "I think you should send this young lady home, Madame; she is not fit for work."

Madame flushed; she hated correction. She bit her reddened lips to keep back the angry words that rose. She told Florrie Jones to see that Violet went home.

The two girls left the showroom together.

Florrie Jones sat watching while Violet changed her dress; suddenly she burst into bitter speech.

"So you've managed to take him away from me."

Violet did not answer, and the older girl went on: "Oh, don't look so innocent. You made me miserable, and now you've broken my heart. He told me himself that he loved you, and that he would marry you if he could. He says you were engaged long ago, but you don't love him; you haven't got it in you to love anybody, with your big eyes and white face. Do you know," she leaned forward, her teeth set. "I'll kill you if you marry him," she said. Violet laughed wearily.

"I don't want to marry him. I wouldn't if he asked me. I thought I liked him, years ago; I was only 18, and it was all a mistake. You're quite welcome to him; I don't want him."

She turned listlessly to the door. Florrie Jones flung after her. She caught her hand; she burst into wild sobbing.

"Oh, do you mean that; do you really mean it? If only I could believe you. You're so much younger and prettier than I am, but he did like me; he thought a lot of me until he met you again. Oh, say that you really mean that you don't want him."

Violet drew her hand away.

"It would be nothing to me if I never saw him again," she said coolly.

It was blazing hot out in the street; she felt sick and faint as she dragged her feet wearily along. She wondered if she were going to be ill; she did not care if it were so.

It seemed too much trouble to get on a bus. She walked on and on as if in a dream.

At the corner of a busy thoroughfare she had to stop for the traffic. As she stood waiting a big, green-painted motor chugged up to the curb; her heavy eyes met those of the man at the wheel—it was Ronald Hastings.

She felt the color receding from her cheeks; her heart seemed almost to stop beating. It was Hastings who looked away first, looked away as if she were an utter stranger to him, and not the woman who had once lain and wept against his heart—not the woman whose lips he had so passionately kissed.

Violet never knew how she got back to Mrs. Higgs. She flung herself down, dressed as she was on the bed, and lay there with closed eyes.

She tried to think of Ronnie, of the cool touch of his soft, little hands, but always the picture shifted and changed, and instead of his child-face and rosy mouth she saw the grave eyes of Ronald Hastings as they had last looked into hers, and the close, stern fold of his lips.

It was late afternoon when Mrs. Higgs climbed the stairs and opened the door. She had come to draw the blinds against the sun; she imagined that even before long she would consider either of them as fit to judge women.

What the world wants today is facts, not opinions.

Individual happiness is always in direct ratio to the effort made to attain it.

The man who consumes himself in vain regret gives the lie to the happiness of the present and uses up his strength depicting conditions nothing can change. Perfection is not in this world, and it is rather difficult to exact it from another when one stops to think how far he is from attempting it himself.

Princes and politicians, editors and statesmen have told us that we women were not to concern ourselves, that we must keep ourselves pure and ignorant and trust to the chivalry of men to protect us, and our own "possibilities" are droll, stuffed with sawdust, content with false phrases, willing to be fed on flattery.

Women, we are told, was made from man's rib. Man was made strong and brave.

Nobody knows how many loads of mud was consumed in his makeup. But only one measly little bone was used to create his mate. No wonder the poor female of the species was weak and sinful and feeble.

Man has saddled woman with all his miseries since the beginning of time. She is to blame for every low-down act that has pestered society from creation until now. If it hadn't been for her, all men would have been saints! What a blessing it

A FEAT of apparent dexterity is to place the end of a strip of paper on the edge of a tumbler, and balance a coin on top. The trick is to remove the paper without disturbing the coin.

It is done by giving the paper strip a hard slap at the middle, which jerks it out from under the coin without the latter losing its balance.

ed that she would refuse him; he never expected anything unpleasant.

"Martin said you were so fond of the kid, too," he burst out suddenly.

"What?" Violet was on her feet now. She stared at him with bright eyes; there was a crimson spot in either cheek.

"What are you talking about?" she asked furiously.

"I'm talking about the boy," he said fatuously. "Martin said you were dead nuts on the boy. I thought you'd marry me if only to get him back, but I suppose Martin was wrong. Women never care for other women's kids; but she wasn't a bad sort, either. Oh, wasn't it?"

Violet was shaking all over. She held out trembling hands to him.

"Are you talking about Ronnie?" she asked wildly. "About my Ronnie?"

"Are you talking about him?" Suture laughed rather nervously. "I don't know about your Ronnie."

"I began, and stopped, as she made a quick step forward and clutched his arm.

"What is he to you? What are you to him?" she asked hoarsely.

Suture jerked his head uncomfortably.

"Well, I happen to be his father," he said unctuously. "That's all, my dear Vi."

Regarding Mr. George and the Women

STRINDBERG AND SUPPORTER ECCENTRIC.

Editor of the Woman's Page:

In my opinion such men as Strindberg and Dionysius, who have been writing through this column, are eccentric and deserve little thought from the general run of women. Not that I would be daunted by or afraid of any argument they might bring, for they must have read much and studied long before I would consider either of them as fit to judge women.

What the world wants today is facts, not opinions.

Individual happiness is always in direct ratio to the effort made to attain it.

The man who consumes himself in vain regret gives the lie to the happiness of the present and uses up his strength depicting conditions nothing can change. must be to be able to pile all your wretchedness upon women!

Do I read more of these opinions of yours, I shall feel obliged to take you back to the olden days and show you with what amount of consideration women have been treated since the creation. And so, if you don't know that what I say is facts and not opinions, "tis perhaps better to keep still."

"A Woman," writing on the Woman's Page, is well read and clever. I wish she would write again, as she writes in an enjoyable and written with an eye to being fair and square.

WOMAN MAN'S GUIDING STAR.

Editor of the Woman's Page:

There are but few men like "Don MacGregor" in this old world, and thank our "Father" for that. He writes: "No man who understands a woman will ever marry one of them." Well—I am sure there is no woman fool enough (if they knew Don) in this world to marry poor "woman hater." Why does H. L. George or any other man have the right to throw rocks at glass houses? Did Don ever have a mother? If so, what kind of a woman is she, to raise such a son? Shame on you, woman! The hand that rules the world, from a few men are left the faithful women as guiding stars. I am troubled sky—a few of them work and climb to greatness of "the" one woman they would conquer all obstacles for her, if need be, or else more difficult, would be the life of a hero and many things are done—and we found who will do such things for the love of a woman.

How many men, when come cross, very soon are ruffled, only a woman will mend their broken lives and save on their wounded pride.

What did a great woman do? good wife is heaven's last gift to man, his angel and his grace innumerable, his virtues, his crown of glory, his voice is sweet music, her brightest day, her life the life of his innocence, her arm of his safety, the balm of his man. The hand that rules the world, from a few men are left the faithful women as guiding stars. ### A LETTER TO BILLY.

Chapter 32.
PEGGY'S promise to Billy that she would write daily began to worry her. How on earth could she find material to write a letter every day? Townley's letters were a pleasure. To write to a man in Europe perhaps once or twice a week was an interesting feat. But to write a letter every day to a young man in Chicago gave one no inspiration at all.

Billy's letters arrived every morning in the first delivery. They were as fresh and bright as the morning sunlight, but after reading these letters for one solid week as she rode down to business and realizing that each one called for an answer, she dreaded to meet the postman or to see the elevator boy.

When she arrived at the office one morning she found no dictation for her and immediately typed a letter to Billy.

"For seven whole days I have written to you as regular as clock-work, Billy boy," she wrote, "but this can't go on for a whole year. My dear old firebug, I would run out of material. I will admit your letters are most interesting, and you seem able to put lots of pep into them, but remember, I do the same things every day and I am not in a new town! When one rides in the street car, spends seven or eight hours in an office and then rides back again in the evening, there really isn't much to write about."

"But, of course, I have gone out several evenings after dinner and, just to make you jealous, I might tell you that I went to the theater with Jack Reed. We saw a very flat musical comedy and because my folks wouldn't allow us to have an after-theater supper downtown I brought Jack out to the kitchenette and we concocted a chafing-dish supper."

"It was a huge success. So you see what you are missing. I have made up my mind to give lots of these chafing-dish affairs, turn on the Victrola and dance between the kitchenette and dining room. Left that a bully idea? Now, that will make you want to come down for week-end visits, all right."

"And oh, yes, Billy boy, you warned me against the Adonis who has taken your place. You said I wouldn't lose my heart to him because he is a 'nut.' I agree as to his being a 'nut,' but I am not so certain of my h-a-a-r-t. He gave a volume of Hindu poems to me which I adore. I showed them to Jack Reed and he began reciting limericks. I wonder how you will like them?"

"But I frankly like this Percy Peterson. Don't think for a minute I 'care about him,' but as a friend 'among those present' at a party or a social affair I think he will be a great addition to my list. When I have these chafing-dish affairs I am going to invite him. I hope Marion Minton will fall head over heels in love with him. But I imagine she likes Jack Reed too much to be goose enough to like a nut, even if he is an Adonis with black curly hair, violet eyes, a Gibson figure and cameo features."

"My first chafing-dish dance party is to be given next Saturday evening. Let me whisper in my sweetest sotto voice, 'Are you coming down from Chicago?'"

"Now, Billy boy, for pity sakes tell me you are. If you don't come just think what you will miss. I know you have only been in Chicago a few days, but I want you to be sure and run down. Letter writing may be all right, but I'd much rather see you and dance with you and feed you upon my famous Welsh rarebit."

"There now, that's settled and you know what I have been doing. But honestly and truly, Billy, I can't write a letter every day of my life. I simply can't do it."

"Let's leave it in this way—you write to me as often as the inspiration comes to you. I hope it will be every day. But I will write just once a week and then sum up the events of the whole week in my own jazzy way. Do you understand, Billy, how hard it is to make my letters interesting if I attempt one every day? Will you be just as happy if I put my ideas all into one letter a week? Of course you will."

"Meanwhile dash off a few words and tell me you will run down next Saturday and meet Marion Minton, Jack Reed, Percy Peterson, Marion's cousin Bella and—

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Sammy and Blacky Watch

By Thornton W. Burgess

Eyes were given us for use;
For failure there is no excuse.

—Sammy Jay.

SPRING was in the air. Yes, sir, spring was in the air. There was still snow and ice all through the Green Forest and the days were cold, but there was a something which told the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows that spring was not far away. They began to watch for signs.

Sammy Jay happened to be over in the Old Orchard one morning when Farmer Brown's Boy came out of the house with an ax in his hand and started toward the Green Forest. Right away Sammy was curious. Where was Farmer Brown's Boy going? What was he going for? Sammy decided to find out. Silently he followed, never once losing sight of Farmer Brown's Boy, but keeping far enough behind him not to be noticed.

Blacky the Crow, who, as you know, is Sammy Jay's cousin, was flying high over head when he spied Farmer Brown's Boy tramping through the Green Forest. Of course, he also saw Sammy Jay following. "I wonder where those two are going," thought Blacky. "I wonder what is up now. I suppose the way to find out is to keep watch."

So Blacky turned and headed in the same direction as Farmer Brown's Boy and Sammy Jay were going. Because he could fly much faster than Farmer Brown's Boy could walk he would stop from time to time in the top of a tall tree from which he could keep his sharp eyes on Farmer Brown's Boy.

Whistling merrily, Farmer Brown's Boy tramped through the Green Forest until presently he came to that part of it where the maple trees grow.

There was a little house in among the maple trees. Farmer Brown's Boy went straight to this little house, unlocked the door and went in.

Presently he came out with a lot of big pails. Then he started over to the nearest tree. In the trunk of it he bored a little hole and into this drove something. Sammy and Blacky didn't know what it was, but probably you have guessed. It was a little metal spout. From this he hung one of the pails. Then he moved on to the next maple tree and did the same thing. He was tapping those maple trees and hanging the pails to catch the sap that would run out of those little spouts he had driven into the holes he had made.

Sammy and Blacky had seen this done before and they knew what it meant. "The sap is running in the maples!" cried Sammy in great excitement to his cousin Blacky. "It's a sure sign of spring! I don't know how Farmer Brown's Boy knows, but he does know, and when he hangs those pails on the trees it is a sure sign that spring is almost here."

Blacky nodded his black head. "I know," said he. "This is going to be a busy place over here for a week or two. It is going to be worth watching."

Presently Farmer Brown appeared and began to help put out those pails. Back and forth from the little house to the maple trees Farmer Brown and his boy tramped until at last every maple tree in that part of the Green Forest had a pail hanging from a little spout driven in its trunk. Some big trees had two or three pails. Then Farmer Brown's Boy brought out his ax and began to chop wood, while inside the little sugar house Farmer Brown was busy putting things in order. And all the time Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow kept watch that they might miss nothing of what was going on.

MULE TEAM Borax SOAP CHIPS

FOR THE WHOLE WEEK'S WASH

It costs no more. An easy, economical, resultful Monday's wash is what 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips mean to the modern housekeeper. A combination of Nature's Greatest Cleanser—20 Mule Team Borax—and fine soap in chip form will clean clothes clean. Twenty Mule Team Borax Soap Chips will not harm the most delicate fabric nor fade the most delicate shade—they are the modern soap chips for washing all fabrics easily and perfectly. Twenty Mule Team Borax Soap Chips is the only soap that will do all these seven important things at once.

1. Softens the water. 2. Removes all dirt. 3. Washes clothes hygienically clean. 4. Washes white goods whiter. 5. Sets the softest colors. 6. Removes all odors. 7. Makes the hands smooth and white. Works perfectly in washing machines. It's the Borax in the soap that does the work. At all grocers and department stores for this week's wash.

A START FROM HUMBLE BEGINNINGS.

M R. CAMPBELL, who was a lawyer, felt somewhat irritated on reaching his office at 8:30 in the morning to find the fire in the grate unkindled and the floor unswept and the place generally in a state of disorder. It was nearly 9 o'clock before Ike, his black office servant, appeared.

"Good Lord, Ike," said Mr. Campbell, petulantly. "What's detained you?"

"Mist' Campbell," apologized Ike, "you must please, suh, excuse me fur bein' late dis one time. I sort of overslept mysef. De truth of de matter is dat I wuz kept up de best part of de night on 'count of jinin' a cullid lodge."

"It surely didn't take you all night to join a lodge, did it?"

"Naw, suh, not persactly. De fust part of de evenin' dey wuz 'nolatin' me into de membership an' de rest of de time dey wuz 'onductin' me into office."

"Isn't it rather unusual to confer an office on a member immediately after taking him in?"

"Naw, suh, dat's de standin' rule in dat lodge—jes' as soon as you is 'nolatin' you gits a office."

"What office did they confer upon you?"

"Imperial Supreme King."

"What?"

"Dat's whut dey calls it—Imperial Supreme King of de Universe."

"Isn't that a high office for a brand new member?"

"Why, naw, suh, Mist' Campbell, dat's de lowes' office dey is in dat lodge. Wen I's been in a spell longer dey is goin' give me somethin' really wuth while."

BENIGHTED—AND HAPPY.

(Greenland has declined the Danish offer of a radio station.)

In Greenland—land of year-round snow—
They haven't heard a single word
About the late divorces;
They haven't yet had any news Concerning how our Mr. Hughes
Has asked the Jap to lay off Yap
And scrap her naval forces.

For all they know, there still is peace
Between the Sultan's gang and Greece;
To solve the Russian tangle
They do not care to awake to try;
Nor do they care dispatches through
To learn what England's going to do
If Ulster men begin again
Another Irish wrangle.

They do not sit around and fret
About the unpaid German debt;
They don't concern themselves to learn
The stock exchange quotations;
They never get the slightest thrill
About the news from Movieville;
They have no wish except to fish,
And ply their plain vocations.

In Greenland they are satisfied
In ice-built lightness to abide;
They never care to probe the air
For radio dispatches.
They think that ignorance is bliss,
And though the latest news they miss,
We'll say they've got a tidy lot
Of sense beneath their thatches.
